ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., May 12.—(Special—Smuggling of liquor, narcotics, metals and other jewelry, and lumber of small bulk has reached such proportions, it was learned to-day that government officials are at a loss what to do in dealing with the problem.

It is not unlikely that a congressional investigation will be precipitated by disclosures of the extent to which the customs laws are being evaded in importations at the principal ports of the United States, particularly at New York City.

"Millions of dollars' worth of liquor and narcotics drugs are pouring through the ports of the country every week and right through the customs houses at that."

Buy 99% of World's Diamonds.

Proprietary America is buying 99% of the world's output of diamonds today but is paying duty on only about half of them. For every diamond on which duty is paid another is smuggled.

Last year approximately $50,000,000 worth of uncut diamonds were lawfully imported. The duty collected amounted to $2,000,000. Customs experts believe the government was cheated of another $9,000,000 on the gems imported.

The smuggling of liquor in enormous quantities has become a notorious scandal in the customs service. The heads of prohibition enforcement and of the coast guard boast of the suppression of "row," the name bestowed upon the rum running ships that now bound our coasts plying the trade with bootleggers who, if more liquor than rum row ever landed now is coming in right across the decks of the big boats.

The importations of Scotch whisky, French champagne, and other foreign liquors are being brought over in large cargo steamers and taken off the docks in the truck load under cover of night. The consignments are usually unmanifested but through the operation of an elaborate organization of bootleggers ashore and afloat aboard ship, they fall into the hands awaiting them.

Smugglers to Lure of Gold.

In many instances the truckloads of liquor are passed through the customs houses and off the docks through the connivance of the poorly paid port guards and other customs employees who have succumbed to the temptation of the bootleggers' gold.

With the best grade of Scotch selling at $125 a case and champagne at $10 and the consignments ranging in value from $10,000 to $100,000, the importers can afford to be munificent. A dock watchman can pick up in one night more than a year's pay to the government by turning his back for two minutes.

The robbery fails intimidation is shown in. Dock guards have been known to shoot the mouth of what goes on at midnight and daylight on the docks where the gurgling boxes are loaded from dark holds and stacked to the waiting trucks.

Guards Knocked Down.

In a recent case in New York a port guard attempted to halt a truck whose was being driven from the dock. He promptly was knocked unconscious by a thug at hand for that purpose and the trucks rumbled off the dock. The representatives of the bootleggers syndicates are well known on the New York and Hoboken docks, where they have created a reign of terror.

Many customs employees who have joined the robbery, nevertheless are inclined to maintain silence by fear of bodily harm.

Liquor is smuggled, though most ingeniously in various kinds of containers, entered and passed as legitimate merchandise on which duty is paid. But this means at present is no longer to be relied upon for the evasion of the bootleggers' profits.

16 MORE HURT; HOLD DRIVERS OF BOTH MACHINES

Condition of Four Injured Serious.

Monroe, Mich., May 13.—[Special.]—Four persons were killed, four seriously injured, and twelve others received minor injuries early today when a Cleveland to Detroit bus of the Greyhound lines struck the rear end of a truck belonging to Motor Freight, Inc. The dead are:

H. WESTERMAN, 40, of Chicago, Mrs. EMMA MARRETUS, 66, of Los Angeles, Cal.

FRANK CINDERICH, 21, of Centerville, Ia.

MILDRED PROCTOR, 16, of Palmaire, Ia.

F. J. GIAFF, 45, of Detroit, Mich.

Dies in Hospital.

All but Cinderich were killed instantly. He died in the Monroe hospital seven hours after the crash.

The four seriously hurt, who are still in the hospital here, are Thomas Chatman, 43, of 243 East Warren avenue, Detroit; Anthony Ludasher, 22, of 1919 South Graybar street, Detroit; Cyrus Reach, 29, of Green tree, Pa., and Lynn Dornshuh, 9, of 9 Harrison street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The driver of the bus, E. D. Warren, of Cleveland, and the truck driver, Godfred C. Froyarp of Detroit, are being held in the Monroe county jail here. Coroner George J. Huber plans to impanel a jury Monday, and will conduct an inquest as soon as the condition of the injured in the hospital warrants.

Says Truck Had No Lights.

The bus driver told the sheriff and the coroner that the truck was parked on the pavement without lights. The truck driver said that he had stopped for only a moment, due to engine trouble, and that two wheels were on the pavement, and that his lights were on. The bus struck a trailer that was being hauled by the truck, and both the truck and trailer were buckled and shoved partly off the road. The trucks were demolished.

Three of Family Killed.

Canton, O., May 12.—[Special]—Three members of a family were killed and three others critically injured as a result of a collision between their automobile and a Pennsylvania passenger train early today.

The dead are Louis Gary Moses, 26, his wife, Ruth, 24, and their daughter, Mary Agnes Moses, 6, all of Massillon. Two of the Moses children, Raymond, 7, and James, 4, and Carl Townsend, 3, of Canton, driver of the car, suffered injuries which may prove fatal.

DRUGGIST SEIZES
ROBBER; CALLS
FOR COP; GETS 9

Radio, telephone, automobile, and gas power combined last night to give police protection to Dr. Israel Nathanson when a bandit entered his drug store at 1859 Madison street and rifled the cash register of $45. While the bandit, who gave his name as Paul G. Brennan, 29 years old, 825 Madison street, who came here recently from Detroit, was covering Dr. Nathanson with a revolver, Walter Larson, a policeman employed as a dog catcher, entered the store.

When Brennan turned toward Larson, the druggist pounced on him and disarmed him. While Larson continued the struggle, Nathanson called the Warren avenue station and Sergt. Thomas Meade dispatched two detectives to the scene and notified The TRIBUNE radio station, W-O-N, which broadcast a call to police. Sergt. John Giffen's bureau squad, which was four blocks from the scene, picked up the call and rushed to the scene.

In the meantime Mrs. Nathanson had run from the store and summoned Patrolman Ed Peich, who was near by. The five men in the bureau squad, the two detectives from the station, and the patrolman all arrived at the same time within a minute after Nathanson's call to police and while Larson and Brennan were still struggling on the floor. Four minutes after he entered the store the robber was in a cell at the Warren avenue station and Nathanson had his $45 back in the cash register.

450 Licenseless Autoists
Given Summons by Police

Chicago police began a general drive yesterday against motorists operating without state or municipal vehicle licenses. A total of 450 drivers were given summonses to appear in traffic court today, the largest percentage, 100 in all, being stopped in the Racine avenue district.

deaths. They threw rocks and came in here like mad men, yelling, 'Get Shields! Get Rehman!'

Students in Doubt.

Miss Rehman would not have been surprised if they had all been struck dumb or something, and her only satisfaction now is the vision of their bent knees to her. She is undaunted.

The students were milling about the campus today, the young men in gags and amateur mood with red roses in their Sunday coats, worrying about their credits and what would happen to them now.

Nobody knew what would happen, but the old red brick buildings still stand and God is still in his heaven. He will direct them.

It is no irony to report that the trustees and their supporters to the rescue against the modernists trust absolutely and literally that the God of love, in the garden, and who counseled with Moses and Aaron, has His attention and His love fixed on this institution, and that it will be brought unsathed through the wilderness of doubt.

"We have a right to this institution and to this position," said Max Schmitz, New York insurance man and vice president of the Bible union, who helped Miss Rehman straiten her gags and chains.

Dr. Shields, Mr. Schmitz, and Miss Rehman seem to be the triumvirate of the Bible union now. A few years ago the fundamentalists were led by Dr. Shields, the Rev. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth, and Dr. William E. Riley of St. Paul. Mr. Norris was tried for murder and acquitted, and Mr. Riley has been too busy for executive work.

Modernism Must Go!

There are more than 400 students enrolled in the science, art, business, and professional schools here. Most of them are in sympathy with the 40 members of the faculty who have been suspended, and many of the faculty are said to be out of spirit with the trustees. It is safe to predict that the Bible union will make a clean sweep of all tainted modernists and cling to the rock of ages in this crisis. At Des Moines, as at Waterloo, the pyramids are behind all the anti-modernist laws passed and attempted.

Dr. H. C. Wayman, president of the university, does not know where he stands or what he will do, except that he will "obey the orders of the trustees." This morning he led the church and communion service, which was in a part of the administration building untouched by the riot. He had had a small audience, as most of the students were gathered around the lawn in the sunshine, seeking peace and the odor of lilacs to take away last night's drowsiness. The thin singing of hymns came through the open door.

All Work Suspended.

Last night this letter was delivered to Dr. Wayman:

"As president of the board of trustees of Des Moines university, I write to advise you that the board this evening has ordered the suspension of all classes and lectures in the university until further notice from the trustees. Board while understanding your desire to request you to see that this notice is sent to the letter, By order of the board of trustees."

"THOMAS T. SUMMERS, President."

Another resolution was adopted as follows:

"In view of the present situation in the university, and without intending any reflection upon any member of the faculty or of the other staff, or upon any other employee of the university, the trustees resolved to endow and expand the purpose of enabling the trustees to reorganize the entire university as may seem wise, it is hereby resolved that the position of president of the university, the position of every member of the faculty, the position of every member of the office staff, and the position of every other employee of the university here and is hereby determined as of June 4th; and that the student who is a member of the faculty who desires appointment to his or her respective position in the university be and is hereby requested to file his or her application for such reflection of reappointment with the secretary of the board of trustees, Miss Edith M. Rehman, at the university, within ten days from this date."

Another Resolution Denied.

There was another matter attended to by the trustees, a secession matter. The trustees called a meeting of the faculty, including the student body. This was the investigation of alleged immorality on the part of Dr. Shields and Miss Rehman. There had been a lot of loose talk about the campus, and according to one of the trustees this had been traced to a member of the board who was out of sympathy with the fundamentalists.

The board called witnesses, traced back the stories, and declared that "we take pleasure in declaring to the world that said officers have emerged from the recent furnace of absolutely

Dr. Shields Here, Glad to Escape Riot Alive; Vindicated of Campus Scandal, Trustee Says

The Rev. Thomas T. Shields, gray-haired president of the board of trustees of Des Moines university, who led the wrath of the student body Saturday night under protection of the Des Moines police, paused in Chicago yesterday and avered he had barely escaped with his life after ordering the students cleared.

He was en route to his home in Toronto, Ont. From there he will go to Buffalo to appear on Wednesday before the Baptist Bible union, sponsors of the college. Three other trustees, the Rev. H. J. Hamilton of Austin, Minn.; James H. Sperry, Grundy Center, Ia., and the Rev. Isaac Page, 1317 Elmwood avenue, Chicago; accompanied the president of the Bible union conference.

Trustee Discusses Charges.
Dr. Shields and his wife, Mrs. Maxine, who is 50 years old, telephoned his wife in Toronto on his arrival here to discuss the secretary of the university board, Miss Edith M. Rehman, with whom he had been linked in a romantic affair through campus gossip. The Rev. Mr. Page, who with the other trustees investigated the rumored romance, discussed the rumors last Friday at the home of Dr. Shields.

"The university trustees spent 16 hours from 10 a.m. last Friday until 2 a.m. the next day investigating the charges," said Mr. Page. "We are convinced they are without foundation."

The investigation was inspired by a letter the board received from a student who had signed the letter. Each one admitted that gossip was the only basis for the letter. Driving further into the affair, we heard three stories. We heard that when we last saw Dr. Shields leaving Miss Rehman's home at a late hour.

"We heard the students' story and then called each one back for cross-examination. They told widely varying stories in the first instance and became confused when recalled. The board was satisfied the stories were true."

"Next we went into a rumor that Miss Rehman and Dr. Shields had occupied adjoining rooms in a hotel in Waterloo, Ia., during a convention of the Baptist Bible union. We questioned both Miss Rehman and the president concerning the story, which also had been circulated on the campus.

"Dr. Shields said he was unable to remember whether Miss Rehman had ever attended the convention. He was staying at the hotel and was assigned a room that was all he recalled.

"Miss Rehman then said she stopped at the same hotel as Dr. Shields, but explained that this hotel was the convention headquarters. In view of these statements the trustees did not consider it worth the trouble to search the hotel records to learn whether their rooms adjoined. The trustees felt that were Dr. Shields and the secretary carrying on clandestine relations they would choose some other trying place than the devil's chief plant for the production of poison gas in America."

SHEIELDS CHARGES CONSPIRACY.

TORONTO, Ont., May 12.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. T. Shields, on arrival here to-night, said "a wide conspiracy" laid waste to his university.

Dr. Shields was met at the station by his wife and several hundred members of Jarvis Street Baptist church, of which he is pastor. The crowd was so large that the station was closed.

"At the present moment I haven't any other thought but that he will continue with the reorganization of the university," Dr. Shields said.

In Jarvis Street Baptist church tomorrow night Dr. Shields indicated that he would make a public statement and that the whole matter would be thrashed out before the convention of the Baptist Bible Union of North America, opening at Buffalo next Tuesday. The decision of the convention, he said, largely would decide future action toward the university.

Commenting on the fury of the students who stormed the building where the board of trustees was assembled, Dr. Shields said, "They were bent on murder."

"If it had not been for the police we might have been killed," he said.

"The students themselves are not vicious, but they had been incensed by the result of crank stories that we should allow all the variations of modernism to be introduced into our school."

Dr. Shields added that when his board took over the university two years ago it was financially a wreck and that he had since traveled 70,000 miles without remuneration in order to restore its stability.

Attack on Gilkey Recalled.

In Canada, where he was pastor of the Jarvis Street Baptist church at Toronto, Dr. Shields was recognized leader of the fundamentalists.

In 1928 he spoke into the microphone at a station in the Rev. Charles Gilkey, formerly pastor of the Hyde Park Baptist church and now dean of the University of Chicago chapel. He described Dr. Gilkey as "an alleged Baptist who sings a joyous requiem over deceased Baptist fundamentalists."

Upbraiding Dr. Gilkey for associating with the University of Chicago, he called the university here "the devil's chief plant for the production of poison gas in America."

"Just what this means is shown in the bulletin of the university, which contains this statement of creed:

"Des Moines university is operated in harmony with the great fundamentals of the faith, such as: The divine inspiration, infallibility and authority of the Bible as being the word of God; the virgin birth; the expiatory sacrifice; 'The just for the unjust'; the resurrection; the ascension to the Father's right hand, and His personal return—in short, Des Moines university teaches the supernaturalism of Christianity as opposed to the materialism of modernism which is prevalent today."

The trouble has been that some of the teachers and students could not be held down to this strict line of thinking. It might be a safer way of life, but their intellects could not accept the literal Bible in the face of scientific facts.

HUTCHINS FINDS WHAT IT'S LIKE TO BE PRESIDENT

Mrs. KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Mr. Robert Maynard Hutchins can testify that being president of the University of Chicago has something to do with being President of the United States. He was returning from a protracted absence of handshaking, contracted at a formal reception in honor of him and his wife in Ida Noyes hall at the university yesterday afternoon. Approximately 1,200 of the south and the university's who's who invited the invitation to meet the chief executive and his attractive wife. It was one of the most distinguished gatherings in the history of the institution, and also one of the best, the line of guests, at times, winding in long double queues from the reception hall, through the foyer, and down the steps onto the sidewalk.

Officials in Reception Line.

The reception line, which formed a procession hall to the west of the university, in cap and gown, were Dr. R. Valentine Merrill, president of the university, in cap and gown; Frederic Woodward, acting president, and Mrs. Woodward, who wore a rose colored printed chiffon dress and carried a bouquet of flowers; President Hutchins and his wife, who was in an afternoon dress of blue printed chiffon and bouquet of lilies; Harold Swift, man of the house of trustees, and Mr. Lloyd Stoddard, the latter wearing a blue satin suit and with a bouquet of old fashioned flowers. Waiting at the tea urns in the adjoining room were two widows of former presidents of the university, Mrs. William Rainey Harper and Mrs. Ernest D. Burton. ### $1,500 GEM HID IN COAT COLLAR GETS EXPENSIVE

New York, May 12.—[Special.]

The seal of customs officials at the pier in examining the baggage of passengers and their ability to sense when a person is concealing something, has realized nearly $25,000 for the United States treasury from Jacob H. Michals of New York and Mrs. Lou McQuesten of Boston.

Mrs. McQuesten arrived May 1 on the White Star liner Homeric. When the baggage was being inspected, a woman customs employee noticed she kept putting her hand to the back of her fur collar and brushed against Mrs. McQuesten, who was stooping over a trunk. Dearly fingering the collar and feeling something hard in the lining, the woman reported it to the deputy survivor in charge and he asked to see the coat.

Fourteen dogs proved about fourteen too many for the neighbors of Carl Kunze, 72 years old, 1225 West Jackson boulevard. So after many complaints he agreed to allow the dogs to be killed by Des Plaines street police. Yesterday the manner of their deaths was bothering him, even after he had figuratively signed their death warrants. He wanted them shot at his home, so that he might be sure they didn't suffer. Police held out for the dog pound.

WOMAN IS HELD IN ROUNDUP OF COUNTERFEITERS

Mrs. Lillian Miller, 34, years old, accused by federal agents of being the distributor for a counterfeiting band of 25 men who, within the last six months, flooded the country with thousands of dollars in bogus $5 and $10 notes, was arrested last night in her apartment at 1915 South Paulina street.

Two hundred dollars in counterfeit money was discovered in the apartment and three men, found there with the woman, were detained for questioning, although none is believed to be involved. Four alleged members of the band, all in custody, are Anthony and Vincent Palucco, brothers; Anthony Palucco and Bartholomeo de Felice. Palucco was locked up at the detective bureau and the other three at outlying stations.

LOSS OF LIFE IN PERSIAN QUAKE PLACED AT 3,000

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

TEHRAN, May 12.—Persia's earthquake is continuing, heavy shocks being reported at hourly intervals today from the cities of Robat and Kelghan, both in the province of Khorasan. The governor of the province, together with the president of the Persian Red Cross, who was sent to the desolated regions by the shah, computed the loss of human life at about 3,000.

Because of insufficient funds it is not possible to bury decomposed bodies of men and animals. It is reported that fifty villages have been completely destroyed and a much larger number partially razed. There is a shortage of doctors and medical care for the sick and wounded. Also there is a scarcity of tents to shelter many homeless families.

The soviet Red Cross has sent assistance by airplane, which includes nurses, doctors, and supplies of medicine. Food is arriving by automobile from Russian Turkistan, but it is feared that this help, in addition to the $5,000 gift from the American legation, will not be sufficient.

UNABLE TO SEND MOTHER A CARD, SHE TAKES POISON

Nurse, Jobless, Attempts Suicide in Hotel.

Mother's day in a big city, without a job and without a mother, was too much for a little blonde-haired nurse, Miss Harriet Parker, found unconscious yesterday in a room at the Midway Annex hotel. Before her was an empty bottle which had contained poison and a note bearing the fact that she could not even send her parent a card.

Last night in the county hospital the girl lay in a coma, from which physicians say she probably will not awake. On a night North Western train the mother, Mrs. Anna Parker, to whom the girl's last thoughts went in a letter found in the hotel room, rode toward Chicago from Munising, Mich., in a race with death.

The letter relayed by phone to the mother by hospital authorities, read:

"Dearest Mother—I am doing something terrible and terrible, but I know that you will forgive me, as you have always done. I am dying and laughing, so that it can be said that I laughed it off. Mother, dear, I tried to be a square shooter, but I

From his parental home in Grikiun, Greece, four years ago, Leo Linkous, son of one of the wealthiest wheat traders of that country, sailed a marriage proposal to Miss Cleopatra Trostatos, 4251 North Moran street.

Since then both have completed courses at the University of Chicago, he in commerce and she in music. Last night, in the presence of 400 friends and relatives, they were married in accordance with the Orthodox Greek ritual in a chapel at 2727 Whipple avenue.

The bride and bridegroom each wore dairy wreaths and carried candlesticks. A feast of roast lamb and chicken was served after the ceremony.

can't live without you. It is Mother's day and I can't even send you a card. I have made many friends in the city, but friends and trouble don't go together. Ask Pete and Joe to forgive me, too. Love to you and sister."

Miss Parker was a graduate nurse. She had been out of employment for some time. She had registered at the Midland Annex hotel under the name of "Fortune."

Miss Parker registered at the hotel early Saturday, but failed to respond to repeated rape on her door during the day and evening. Dr. Louis J. Brody, 8032 Eberhart avenue, was summoned early yesterday morning when her condition was discovered, and she was removed to the hospital.

SMUGGLERS OF RUM AND GEMS OUTGUESS U. S.

Customs Collapse May Bring Quiz.

With narcotics seized it is estimated that $1,000,000 worth gets through.

That's the way it is done: A consignment of 100 boxes of brushes from Holland, for example, arrives at the custom house and is claimed by the consignee. The customs inspectors do not open and search every one of the 100 boxes. Under the rule they seized any box but that for inspection. Then the consignee eventually gets his dope.

Hid in Brushes.

For more frequently, however, the smuggling is accomplished without the connivance of customs employees. The consignment of brushes arrives at New York for delivery to a consignee in Philadelphia, for example. The consignee at the instance of the consignee is marked for "immediate transport" without appraisal at port of delivery. That means that it is to be sent to Philadelphia for examination and appraisal. The consignee is turned over to a bonded trucking concern for transportation to Philadelphia.

The truck, on its way to the Philadelphia custom house, is driven into a warehouse, where one of the boxes of brushes is taken from the truck and replaced by a box of brushes identically marked, which has been saved from a previous shipment. The box containing $1,000,000 worth of narcotics or more, thus has found its way into the hands of the smugglers.

The truck goes on to Philadelphia and the 100 boxes of brushes, in which the consignee now is but mildly interested, are examined, passed, appraised, and delivered.

Driver Sometimes "In."

Smuggling by this subterfuge is effected sometimes with, but frequently without, the connivance of the truck driver. Sometimes the substitution of the containers is made from a following car while the truckman is at lunch.

In some cases no attempt at a substitution is made. The precious box is simply "lost" off the truck by an oblivious driver. This, of course, arouses suspicion at the custom house of destination and an investigation ensues. The bonded trucking company is held responsible for the loss of the box and is compelled to reimburse the consignee for the value of the article plus the duty thereon.

If the consignee happens to be the smuggler himself who has stolen the box from his own consignment he doubtless manages to accept the reimbursement by the bonded trucking company with a straight face. Certainly he can afford to do so and set the driver

Little Chats About Your Health HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE.

The subject of blood pressure, either high or low, is a very important one as it is estimated that one out of every two persons in the United States is subject to disturbances from this cause.

There are various drugs known to physicians which lower the blood pressure, yet the effects of such drugs are not permanent, since they do not relieve the real underlying cause of trouble.

For that reason you should consult your physician to determine what is causing your trouble.

You are always welcome to go to your doctor for advice whenever you feel uncomfortable in having us fill your prescriptions.

We have offered a highly specialized prescription service to the residents and physicians of Chicago for more than three quarters of a century.

936 MILLIONS VOLSTEAD BILL OF U. S. IN 1928

Huge Revenue Losses Are Shown by Records.

TEN GIRLS SUSPENDED FOR PADDLING GIVEN SORORITY INITIATE

Long Beach, Cal., May 12.—Ten girls stood suspended today from the Polytechnic High school and Long Beach Junior college by the board of education for their part in a sorority initiation in which Margaret Lindsay, 18, was paddled so severely she was forced to remain in bed two days.

W. L. Stephens, school superintendent, said more suspensions would be made if necessary to eradicate secret organizations here. California law permits secondary school fraternities and sororities.

The Long Beach case was the first in southern California involving girls. Recently, however, 25 boy students of Pasadena, Cal., schools were suspended. Four of the boys were fined $25 in Municipal court for patty theft in connection with "stealing" fraternity house furnishings.

The difficulty of estimating what local liquor revenues would have been without national prohibition, but it is asserted that if "it is probably safe to say that the local revenues derived in the 18 states would at least equal 40 per cent of the total local revenues before 1914," then those states with their countries and municipalities are losing about $50,000,000 annually in liquor taxes.

Difficult to Fix Local Costs.
The report pointed out the impossibility of determining how much is being appropriated by states and local communities for prohibition enforcement. New York, Maryland, Montana and Nevada have no state dry laws.

A report compiled by the Senate Finance Committee shows that the total of $657,445 reported by various states for prohibition enforcement. The figures are incomplete, however, representing only 26 states, a gallon and 11,290,300 gallons of 40 cents a gallon.

Estimated 1927 Consumption.

Under the 1920 law heavy malt liquors were taxed $2 a barrel and lighter malt liquors were taxed $1 a barrel. In 1923 about 8 times as many barrels were taxed at $2 a barrel as those which were taxed at the higher rate. Thus, the estimated consumption in 1927 would have been approximately 27,834,000 barrels of malt liquor taxed at $2 a barrel and 2,758,322 barrels at $1 a barrel.

A general rate of $4.40 a proof gallon and a floor tax of $2.10 a gallon, a total of $6.50 a gallon—was applied to all distilled liquors.

The result, on the above basis indicates, according to the association's experts, that the government lost in 1927 the following tax revenue:

ZEPPELIN PLANS FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

BERLIN, May 12.—(AP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, scheduled to start its second trans-Atlantic flight from Friedrichshafen, to Lakehurst, N. J., Wednesday, will inaugurate the 1923 ocean flying season.

The model recalled, in conclusion, Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Duran's assertion that at least $100 million a year must be expended by the government for local enforcement. "It is really effective and do the things that congress has never, by its appropriations power, at least, indicated that it should do."

The implication of this is clear. It is assumed in the booklet, "The Prohibition Commission," in effect, calls upon the states to contribute at least $60 millions new money for local enforcement. This would bring the total prohibition bill to nearly $1,500,000,000 a year.

The Long Beach case was the first in southern California involving girls. Recently, however, 25 boy students of Pasadena, Cal., schools were suspended. Four of the boys were fined $25 in Municipal court for patty theft in connection with "stealing" fraternity house furnishings.

In 1923 about 8 times as many barrels were taxed at $2 a barrel as those which were taxed at the higher rate. Thus, the estimated consumption in 1927 would have been approximately 27,834,000 barrels of malt liquor taxed at $2 a barrel and 2,758,322 barrels at $1 a barrel.

A general rate of $4.40 a proof gallon and a floor tax of $2.10 a gallon, a total of $6.50 a gallon—was applied to all distilled liquors.

The result, on the above basis indicates, according to the association's experts, that the government lost in 1927 the following tax revenue:

QUACK! QUACK! OLD DOCS DODGE DENTISTRY LAW

Charlatans of Forceps Are Exposed by Inquiry.

While of the Chicago Dental society may there are more unlicensed and unscrupulous quack dentists operating in Chicago today than ever existed in any other metropolitan city. They say that while quackery a dentistry is not so old a racket as medicine, its profits are as rich, if not richer. And with the administration of the dental laws several hundred dental charlatans are causing a trail of disease and death in the wake of their bungling instruments.

Healthcare Made Public.

To demonstrate what is going on among the quack dentists, and to call attention of the present authorities to the situation, Dr. Hugo G. Fisher, president elect of the dental society; Dr. M. Byron Kelly, chairman of its rules and infractions committee, and Dr. Frank T. Hayes, one of the directors, have made public some of the results of a recent investigation.

The society, among other things, exposed a young woman, who visited the quacks' offices posing as a patient, keeping her eyes open and giving much valuable information.

OLD DOC FRAMPTON

The police have several times put the legal forces on Old Doc Aylett Frampton whose headquarters are at "The New System Dental office" at 4092 West Madison street. He has been charged with practicing dentistry without a license, but his friends have not stopped him. He is still open for business. Perhaps the fact he has not been arrested more often is due to the fact Old Doc Frampton has several alibis—all equipped with pooh-holes. That is to say there is a little round hole between his private office and his reception room—a dia that may be opened back, leaving a little hole to which he can apply open professional eye and see who is entering.

Gives Slip to Police.

Any one he isn't anxious to see—police, for instance—Old Doc Frampton can just slip on his coat and slip down the back stairs. When slips out that way leaving the "snicker"—as he calls the patients waiting in the chair. Just too bad for the "snicker."

It was only after a smart detective from the Fullerton street station got wise to the peep-hole that the police were able to make a pinch. Old Doc Frampton finally found a cop waiting mobile. And as he makes his rounds he carries his clip-clop paddle machine with him doing odd jobs of dental work as he can pick them up.

A Dental Lottery.

There is another who gives away chances on a touring car with every cash down job of filling or filling, and still another who sneaks his victims among the foreign population by promising them "a gold tooth for Christman."

It doesn't make any difference whether they need the gold tooth at Christmas or not, that Old Doc will promise it to 'em. What's the promise of a gold tooth when they'll never come back for another treatment anyway?

Some of the Old Docs are operating with fake licenses hanging on their walls. Others have obtained licenses that once belonged to reputable dentists who, fallen into evil ways, no longer practice themselves. It is said that some are even using the license of dentists who are dead.

OLD DOC TULLY

Old Doc Baird, alias Jackson, alias Tully, on whom there shall be no lightenment this morning, obtained not only a license but one of his names by the simple system of appropriating them from a roving Wisconsin dentist who once obtained an Illinois license.

The Wisconsin dentist is Dr. Ver S. Baird of Milwaukee. Dr. Baird was graduated from dental school in 1902 and from medical school in 1905. All the while that Dr. Baird was practicing dentistry and dentistry in Wisconsin as they then were, the faker who had stolen his name was practicing in Chicago.

The man who assumed Dr. Baird's name and who obtained a duplicate of Dr. Baird's license was exposed at a hearing before the dental board of the department of registration, the Baird license was taken from him, but he is now practicing dentistry at 4644 South Ashland avenue, under the name of William M. Tully.

The Baird license was taken from him on Nov. 15, 1927, yet on Jan. 15, 1928—just two months later, the records show—he was able to obtain a license as "Tully" from Victor C.

Mayful rascals these Old Doc Dentists, and what tricks! They would be funny tricks if they weren't so filled with pain and tragedy.

The Cobbler Dentist.

One Old Doc Quack married into the profession. That is to say, this Old Doc in his salaried days was a shoemaker struggling along to make an honest dollar. He got the only dental training remaining in the mail. While mending shoes he met a dentist's widow and married her—and ah, the metamorphosis! Next Monday morning he tossed a smock over his head and from then on he was known as "doctor."

O, yes, it was slick—laughable almost. From shoemaker to dentist—just like that! But not long after Old Doc Shoemaker started practicing a little boy sat down in his chair and he broke the little boy's jaw with his dentistry. An infection from his dirty tools set in and the little boy died. So he ceased to be funny.

Another Old Doc does all his work on the fly, so to speak. An obsolete foot paddle machine that wobbles and goes clap! clap! while he grinds the achine molars. This Old Doc does his dentistry only as a side line. His real life is soliciting insurance. Doing that, he drives about in a small automobile. And as he makes his rounds he carries his clip-clop paddle machine with him doing odd jobs of dental work as he can pick them up.

INVESTIGATOR'S REPORT

Baird, alias Jackson, alias Tully, was nervous when I went to his Halsted office. He is a big man. He is six feet tall and heavy set. He has a long, slender, early sort of face. His hair dark and wavy. He looks a lot more like a steamfitter than a dentist. He is rough looking.

He was sitting talking to the girl and when I came in jumped up quickly. The girl stared at me. I got the impression that she was jealous or suspicious.

"Good afternoon," said the doctor in a rasping voice. "What can I do for you, young lady?"

I told him I wanted to get an examination and see if my teeth needed fixing.

"Come in and sit down," he said, leading the way into the inner office where the chair was.

His hands were trembling when he started to put the instrument in my mouth. He poked around for a minute, then he asked.

"Where is the pain?"

"O, I haven't any pain, doctor; just thought I might need some dental work," was my reply.

I mentioned the name of a dentist down the street, saying I had been to him and didn't like him.

"Yes," said Tully, "He's had too rough. A lot of his patients come to me if they've been treated like that."

"Excuse me a moment," he said, and went out to talk with the girl again. When he got back he looked through my mouth.

"O, yes," he said, "you'll need a little work." He marked off on a card what I needed and then the examination was over.

Entertaining a Visitor.

But Old Doc "Baird" was nervous when I went to his office. It may have been because he was entertaining that afternoon. Anyway he had a woman in his reception room. He kept running out there all the time while I was sitting in his chair worrying about what he would do to my teeth.

Tully is a big man. He is six feet tall and heavy set. He has a long, slender, early sort of face. His hair dark and wavy. He looks a lot more like a steamfitter than a dentist. He is rough looking.

Has License Revoked.

It was after this that I had Old Doc Quack Tully haled before the department of registration and education. Through my connection with the dental society I forced the department to call him in several times. But it was nothing but trouble. I would go to the office, he would get his license revoked, and then it was just stay days after his "Baird" license was taken from him that he went to Springfield and got another one as Tully.

Tully has been in his office—south side Tully office at 4644 Ashland avenue—several times since he obtained that license and he has kidded me about it.

"They can't keep a good man down," he has laughed. And I guess he is right. The department seems to know from the day he got his license that he is not a dentist. But he's been practicing and had the license hanging on his wall all the same.

Detectives Fire at Fleeing Autos, Man Believed Shot

Detectives Thomas Nolan and Herbert Dillon believe they wounded Michael Gallicchio, 21 years old, 1445 Elburn avenue, said to be a west side hoodlum, during a chase yesterday after water running. The policeman, cruising in a district patrol car, caught sight of Gallicchio, riding in a fiver with a companion, at Elburn avenue and South Laflin street. As the fiver sped away after being signaled to halt, the detectives fired several shots, and they said they saw Gallicchio slump in his seat as if hit.

The police have several times put the legal forces on Old Doc Aylett Frampton whose headquarters are at "The New System Dental office" at 4092 West Madison street. ## CHICAGO GANGS OWN 500 MACHINE GUNS, STEGE SAYS

Thompson guns are sold you with the understanding that you will be responsible for their results only to those on the side of law and order.—Auto-Ordnance Company, 302 Broadway, New York.

Criminals in Chicago have in their possession about 500 machine guns of the type that fire 100 shots in a few seconds, despite the above "trade warning," Deputy Commissioner John Stege declared yesterday. He said the police have none of the guns and don't want any. Stege wants a state law making it a penitentiary offense for any one in Illinois to possess or to have such a gun.

"When a representative of the Auto-Ordnance company came to me after the Moran gang massacre of Feb. 14, and said he wanted to help me in tracing the guns used in the seven killings I told him the only help he could give was to go back and close the gun factory," Stege said. "The weapons are absolutely of no value to police, banks, guards, messengers, or any one other than criminals."

Three Sell 100 Guns to Gangs.

"We have had three men in custody in the last week who sold 100 of the Thompson machine guns to gangsters, and there was no law violated. Those guns will be used against policemen and in bank robberies."

"We would never dare use one of them; too many innocent people might be killed."

"Congress should prohibit the manufacture or sale of these guns in peace time. They should be barred from in-ternate shipments and Illinois should make it a felony to have one."

At the detective bureau Stege had in custody V. A. Daniels, alias Danielski, arrested on Saturday. Daniels admitted disposing of 14 of the Thompson guns within the last year, and said he had broken no law. He bought the guns for $100 each and sold them for not less than $275 and up to $600, according to Lieut. William Cusack.

Says They're Easy to Buy.

"It is no trouble to buy machine guns," Daniels told a reporter. "All I had to do was send to New York for them and they were shipped to me. I was getting them for the Mexican rebel army."

Stege said the Mexican army part of Daniels' story is a fable, that he traced some of the guns Daniels bought to "Red" Bolton, west side gangster and beer runner, to Charles "Lumpy" Cleaver, mail robber, and to Joe Salta, head of a local gang.

"It was very simple for Daniels to get the guns," Stege said, "that although he gave the New York company a bad check for $200 for one shipment, they refused to prosecute him after he made the check good, and he was able to buy more guns from them."

Shots on Salta Letter.

Daniels denied having sold any guns to Salta, or having procured any for him. A letter was found in his room to Steve Salta, brother of Joe. Its tenor was that Daniels was demanding money owed to him, but he refused to discuss the debt with the police.

Joe Salta used the first machine gun in Chicago as far as I know," Stege said. "He fired fifty shots into a saloon owned by 'Buff' Costello on Halsted street in 1920."

Lieut. Assistant State's Attorney

William H. McEvigan and two others were killed by machine gun fire. The Holy Name cathedral was spattered by machine gun bullets when Hyatt Weiss was killed in State street.

55 Slain by Machine Gun.

"Since then about 35 persons have been killed in Chicago by machine guns, including the seven massacres victims. Investigating those seven killings we arrested Peter Van Frankenstein, a sport goods dealer at 307 Divernon, an ex-coneys of Kirkland, Ill. Von Frankenstein admitted selling machine guns to Thompson. Thompson sold the guns to gangsters."

A bill has been introduced in the senate by Senator Adolph E. Rohrbach of Chicago prohibiting the use of machine guns in Illinois under penalty of a penitentiary sentence, but exempting police, sheriffs, peace officers, guards, manufacturers and members of the army, navy, marine corps and National Guard. That bill passed the senate and is now in act and reading in the house. Stege says it should be amended so as not to exempt any one.

SHOTS TWO: IS CAPTURED.

Jack Murphy, 32, colored, 300 Federal size, was captured by City Police Officers Bunting and Joseph Clancy at Dearborn and 27th streets yesterday as he was sprinting with a revolver in his hand. From 1924 to 1926 he was a member of the notorious gang of 27 gangsters known as the "Murphy gang" where he had shot R. D. Peters, 76, and Mamie Hubanks, 32, both colored.

CLUE IN FINGERPRINTS ON CIGARET STUBS

Show Who Slew
Young Harvard Student.

Walter, Conn., May 17.—[Special.]—The murderer of Walter Treadway Huntington is a man, is virtually unbroken now, and will be arrested as County Detective Edward C. O'Neil is satisfied with the strength of evidence he is slowly gathering. It was learned on Saturday that the authority which first knew the young Huntington was not sure who fired the gun that killed him.

As Detective Shirley's real opinion on the killing of the young Harvard student whose body was found in his pasture off Lovers' Lane here Wednesday morning, not far from the Huntington family home, today, it was learned tonight, never considered the case as other than murder. He deliberately sought to prove the suspect off his guard by giving out statements that Huntington was a suicide even though this and other apparent conflict with official experts, according to him, it is said.

Search His Investigation.

Under this screen Shirley has been under his evidence with great care to be persuaded that the murder was planned and an alibi prepared in advance. Tonight he was ready to swoop upon his prey.

The case against the alleged killer went to conduct party of letters found in the young student's room at school and party of local discoverers and is to be buttressed with new evidence. Huntington's attempts to a girl are regarded as the cause of the shooting.

Whether the girl or the slayer may have been betrayed by finger prints left on stubs of numerous cigarettes which were smoked in the Sabot house of the Tariffville road last night or Wednesday morning.

Cigarette Prints.

The cigarette stubs formed the new clue to the murderer. They are many in number, and are now under microscopic scrutiny. It is rumored that the prints have been revealed as those of a woman.

After an examination officials refuse to disclose their findings and only affirm that the cigarette prints remain as the most important clue to solution of the mystery.

So much was learned, however: Huntington smoked one brand of cigarette. His companion of that early morning rendezvous smoked another brand and smoked even more nervously and vigorously than Huntington, the officials believe, for there

Cold Figures Show It Cannot Reduce.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, May 17.—While present politicians are politely downplaying Ambassador Hugh G. Gibson's thesis for the reduction not limitation of armaments as expounded at Geneva when he put the rest of the nations to do the same, Great Britain is still playing its hand pretty close to its chest.

A verbal agreement to the American thesis is pretty, but those who know are convinced that when it comes down to brass tacks—or steel—reduction is not the British idea at all. In fact, cold figures show it is impossible from the British point of view.

Would Have to Scrap Ships.

At the Geneva conference of 1927 the United States offered a maximum of 400,000 tons of armament for itself and the British Empire. Great Britain understood now that no figure greater than 250,000 tons will be conceded. This is 65,000 tons below the present American aggregate of modern cruisers built, building or projected, and considerably less than the existing British strength.

Acceptance of this figure would mean curtailing the American program and an extensive scrapping on the part of Great Britain. Whatever America's attitude with regard to shelving its building plans, Great Britain definitely is not willing to chuck a good section of its navy in the scrap heap.

Oil Is Important Factor.

Naval opinion here regards the suggested total utterly insufficient for British requirements. That would allow Great Britain twenty-five ships of the 10,000 ton class, or thirty of the 8,400 ton York class. More than half of these would be absorbed by the battle fleet, leaving a bare dozen cruisers available for defense of trade routes. It is inconceivable that the admiralty will agree to such a drastic reduction in British strength.

The geographical situation of Great Britain diminishes. As the main exponent of the Daily Telegraph points out, England could be starved out in six weeks—America never. The all important factor of all also enters. America has fields within its boundaries. Great Britain's oil comes from abroad, and in order to insure supplies in time of war it must be able to protect the routes of the tankers.

Must Enlarge War.

Hence Great Britain wants many small boats, but realizing their value as exactly nothing against bigger and heavier armed craft, it also wants big fellows to balance the American giants. For, however earnestly officials deny the fact, it remains that the unlikely event of war between America and Great Britain must be envisaged by the defensive forces of both countries.

One point of divergence is the value of armed liners. In America, American experts feel that Great Britain's many commercial boats susceptible to conversion into fast, formidable war boats, but England insists that the largest armed liner is no match for the smallest regular cruiser. This similar difference makes it difficult for the two powers to agree. Great Britain is particularly wary, for its very life in case of trouble depends upon holding first its strength at sea, and if it is fighting to the utmost to prevent the inevitable shifting of the balance of power to America.

DEMOCRATS GET EARLY FUEL FOR 1930 CAMPAIGN

Discontent Seen with Farm and Tariff Proposals.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD,
(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Washington, D. C., May 18.—Despite J—famous for the congressional elections of 1928 are emerging from the controversies over farm relief and the tariff.

Insanity of President Hoover to have Republicans in line for his farm relief program and the unusual success of the Democrats in solidifying their forces in the Senate promises to lead to further embarrassment for the administration.

Vulnerability of the new tariff bill to attacks from both within and without the majority party threatens serious trouble for the senators and representatives who come up for reelection next year.

Moreover, the fiscal plan that constitutes has been in action have filled administration leaders with gloomy forebodings that the disaffection within the Republican party may be no greater as to enable the Democrats to gain control of the Senate and greatly reduce the Republican majority in the House in 1932.

No Given a Fair Trial.

Friends of President Hoover had hoped that harmony in Republican ranks might be maintained during a paved long enough to get a farm relief bill and a tariff bill on the statute books and permit both to have a fair trial.

cause for alarm in Republican counties. Democrats Show Team Work.

One of the big surprises has been that the Democrats have been able to forget their own differences and take advantage of the discord in the enemy's camp. They succeeded in presenting almost a solid front in favor of the export debenture scheme in the Senate and it now looks as if they might adopt it as a party measure in coming campaign. The Democrats never were very enthusiastic about the equalization fee of the old McNary-Haugen bill despite their espousal of it in the last campaign. The debenture plan promises to be a substitute for it.

As yet, there has been no test to determine whether the Democrats in the house are prepared to follow the leadership of the Senate. Representative John L. McGehee, Noble county commissioner, was found in a flood swollen creek near Red Rock. He apparently had driven his car into the stream after a bridge had been washed away.

Heavy rains transformed small creeks in northeastern Oklahoma into raging torrents. Red Rock creek went far out of its banks and was lapsing at the edge of the town.

FLOODS CAUSE TWO DEATHS IN KANSAS AND OKLAHOMA

Topeka, Kan., May 12.—(UPI)—Flood water which caused at least two deaths and extensive property damage in central Kansas, raced across the southeastern portion of the state and northeastern Oklahoma today, interrupting traffic and communications, and adding to the destruction. The first death from the flood in Oklahoma was reported today.

The body of John L. McGehee, Noble county commissioner, was found in a flood swollen creek near Red Rock. He apparently had driven his car into the stream after a bridge had been washed away.

causes to modify the protectionist stand which the party took in the last campaign at the instance of Alfred E. Smith and John J. Raskob. While many of the Democrats favor protection for certain industries in their home states and for agriculture, they are not ready to line up for a complete protective tariff bill framed by Republicans.

Democrats Review Tariff Views.

Instead of attempting to prove to industry that they are for protection, they did in the last campaign.

Democrats in the next congressional elections are likely to make opposition to what will be the Hawley-Smoot tariff law one of their big issues.

A limitation of debate on the farm bill becomes effective in the Senate to-morrow and its passage is expected either late tomorrow or Tuesday. Then will come the struggle between the Senate and house over whether the export debenture provision remains in the bill when it comes back from the house, and, if unsuccessful in that, to force it into the tariff bill. Other minority members of the ways and means committee are with him on the proposal.

Representative James B. Averell

(Dem., Ky.) and D. H. Kincheloe

(Dem., Ky.), the two ranking minority members of the committee on agriculture, however, declared themselves opposed to the debenture scheme when the farm bill was in the house. Their position was taken before the Senate

Democrats made the question a party issue.

Call Hoover Bad Politician.

Some Republicans are inclined to think that President Hoover made unnecessary trouble for himself by his broadside against the debenture plan.

His sweeping denunciation of the proposal, according to this theory, gave the Democrats an issue. If he had remained silent it might have been de-fated in the Senate, as a number of Democrats had intended to vote against it until their leaders sensed its possibilities as a party issue.

The agitation over the question was held to have won favor for it with farmers, as its opponents have admitted that it would provide a sure method of boycotting imports.

The tariff discussions have shown a a pronounced trend among the Demo-

This Iron Heats
28% Quicker—
Irons 1 Hour Faster

Expert Discovered This By Stop-Watch Timing.

Note: This letter is from Grace Viall Gray, Ph. B., Ed. B., formerly Associate Professor of Home Economics at Illinois State College, Danville, Ill. Mrs. Gray now does her creative and experimental work in her own efficiency kitchen.

TO THE EDITOR: I was recently called upon to make some experiments with several different kinds of electric irons. For obvious reasons I shall mention no named except of the iron which proved superior in every one of my tests—the Sunbeam.

GRACE VIALL GRAY
FIRST—HEATING TIME

With my stop-watch I measured the exact time required to bring the Sunbeam to its temperature.

I found that the Sunbeam heats up 28% faster than the average of all others tested.

SECOND—IRONING TIME:

Under my personal supervision, an assistant ironed identical pieces of exactly the same dampness with each separate iron. Again I recorded the time and found that the Sunbeam will save a full hour in doing a day's ironing.

My assistant was able to complete without restaging the Sunbeam.

At the same time did damp pieces cool it off. Women who do their own ironing will be grateful for that extra hour, and those who pay high bills will be glad to save on electricity.

(Upon laundry I found that this superiority is due to the All-Over Heat.

Sunbeam is the only iron with an Air-Cooled Handle and Non-Breakable Trouble-Proof Plug that holds the cord off to the side out of the way. This Air-Cooled Handle not only makes ironing delightfully comfortable, but also keeps the skin soft and lovely.

Any of your readers who want to see the Sunbeam can inquire of their dealers or Public Service Co.

An Art-Steel Fireproof Case comes with it, so a woman can always have a compact, stand and hot iron without waiting for the iron to cool.

Very truly yours,

GRACE VIALL GRAY.

P.S.—I am informed that Engineers' tests proved the Sunbeam will not burn out in 50 years hence too.

ARMY PLANE OFF TO MIMIC WAR FALLS; ONE DEAD

Texas Craft Crashes in Arkansas Takeoff.

Little Rock, Ark., May 12.—(UPI)—Staff Sergeant Homer O. Johnson was killed and Lieut. C. K. Roath was injured seriously here today in a crash of one of the pursuit planes of the third attack squadron of the United States army air corps.

The thirty-six planes in the squadron stopped here en route from Galveston, Tex., to Dayton, O., to participate in the army air maneuvers.

The crash occurred soon after the plane had taken off at the National Guard airport.

Fails in Making Loop Attempt.

The army craft took off in flights of three. The one which crashed was in the third flight from the last.

Witnesses said it apparently came too close to one of the others in the flight, and Lieut. Roath attempted to make a loop, but was at such low altitude the plane dived to the ground.

Johnson lived about 15 minutes. Roath was taken to a hospital, where it was said his condition is serious.

Craft Arriving in Ohio.

Columbus, O., May 12.—(UPI)—The vanguard of the air fleet en route from east and west, north and south to take part in the air-ground army maneuvers May 15 to May 25 arrived in Ohio today.

Following the arrival of Lieut. Col. H. C. Pratt from Washington at Wright Field, Dayton, Saturday, the first planes of air corps units arrived late today. The ships were piloted by Capt. Vincent Dickson and Capt. Ray M. House of the air corps tactical school, Langley field, Virginia.

The ninth observation group from Mitchel field, New York, was scheduled to arrive later.

Lieut. Col. Pratt is to command the air forces of the blue army in the maneuvers. Maj. John N. Reynolds of Washington will command the red air force and will be stationed at Morristown field.

Brig. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, newly assigned as chief of the air corps material division, will direct the activities of both sides, and Maj. Gen. Dennis E. Nola, commanding the Ohio fifth corps area, will direct the entire maneuvers.

Winds Force 21 Planes Back.

Cumberland, Md., May 12.—(UPI)—Forced back by high winds and storms over the Cumberland mountains, 21 planes of a squadron of 45 landed here late today, with all indications pointing to their remaining until tomorrow.

Fifteen of the craft, bombers and bi-motored ships, are from Langley Field, Va. Three of them were mired in the mud and probably will not be able to leave with the others tomorrow.

The ships are en route to Dayton, O., to participate in war maneuvers.

Two KILLED in Borrowed Plane.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 12.—(UPI)—Raymond Kettenthaler, 22, an amateur pilot, and his brother, Gordon Kettenthaler, 20, were killed in the crash of a borrowed airplane in a windstorm near Compton, a suburb, shortly after noon.

TRACK ASSASSINS OF WALDEMARAS TO SOCIALISTS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

RIGA, May 12.—The Lithuanian semi-official press, stressing the absence of representatives from the opposition parties from the funeral of Adjutant Guidonis, who was killed in the attempt to protect Waldemaras from bullets of assassins, observes that such behavior is symptomatic of the solidarity of relations between the Christian and Socialist parties and the enemies of the Lithuanian state.

The Lithuanian police continue to successfully track the assailants of Premier Waldemaras. Adj. Vericki, who was wounded, has recognized a university student named Wasiljev as one of the assassins. It is officially stated that the murderer belongs to a Socialist revolutionary organization known as the Adeninkai, which includes many students. More than 25 persons have been arrested.

THE CENTRAL STATES AND THE PANAMA CANAL.

The section on shipping in the report by the committee on recent economic changes has been released. It was prepared by E. S. Gregg, former chief of the transportation division of the United States department of commerce and now chief statistician for the Western Electric company.

The central states the most important feature of a report is that part concerned with the influence of the Panama canal on our shipping. Mr. Gregg's facts are impartial, non-political, and authoritative. He shows that the canal has tended to retard the location of industries in the central states.

Shippers east of an imaginary line running north and south approximately through Cleveland, the report states, can send goods to the Pacific ocean as cheaply by rail eastward and then by steamer westward through the Panama "canal" as by rail westward. Therefore shippers east of this imaginary line have lower transportation costs on west coast business. New industries, the report concludes, are likely to consider this factor when they are about to locate a new plant.

In an attempt to compensate for this handicap to manufacturers and shippers of the central states, Mr. Gregg mentions the policy of the Illinois Central railroad in publishing a joint rail and water tariff on steel articles originating around Chicago and destined for the Pacific coast via the gulf. To what extent this practice has reciprocated freight which has been diverted to eastern mills, more fortunately located to use intercoastal ship service, the report was unable to state.

In the face of this indisputable evidence, the congressmen and senators from the central states are obligated to withhold support for the Nicaraguan canal project until the inland, waterway system is completed or until completion is assured. A canal through Nicaragua would only aggravate the conditions under which industry in the central states is suffering. To meet this competition west coast railroads would have to lower their rates to perhaps a concessionary scale. Furthermore, the expense of building the canal would be met to a large extent by taxpayers in the central states.

The only condition upon which the Nicaraguan canal is economically acceptable to the central states is that it shall be equally useful to our section of the country. We must have access to it through the lake-to-gulf channel, through the upper Mississippi, and through the Missouri river. Fortunately, Mr. Hoover seems to realize the importance of the inland waterways in the nation's transportation system, and he has indicated that the intra-industry waterway program is among the first projects of his administration. He must also direct the war department to develop a system for an inexpensive large-to-small exchange at New Orleans. Otherwise the advantage of cheap water rates might be neutralized by the expense of cargo transfer from river-going craft to ocean vessels.

ROTTEN BOROUGHS AND BAD LAWS. In indicating the Chicago wards it has been advised by some aldermen to add five more units, divide the largest wards and keep the little ones. A few Chicago wards have the population of some of the small states. Others rate as cities of the third class in the census grouping. Others are small areas of easily contrived voting lists. They are the pocket wards which upset the principle of representative government in the council. If these wards were divided and the pocket wards reduced in the new map there would be some correction of the present unbalanced voting power, but it would be still insufficient for the continuance of the vast wards.

Rotten boroughs make rotten laws. That is apparently lost on the American people. There are consequences of it all over the place. Congress has a hand in the composition of the house of representatives. It has not yet obeyed the constitution and distributed representation among the states as the census shows it should be. That result is carried into the electoral college in consequence.

The nullification of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments illegally increases the representation of southern states.

The Illinois legislature has nullified the state constitution to hardly disfranchise the voters in metropolitan areas and upon this distortion of the principle of representative government discriminatory and prejudiced legislation is based. The unbalanced ward map of Chicago deprives citizens who form the cream of the American electorate of equal voice in the government, and consequences are registered in bad government of laws and acts at their source. It can hardly be expected of a system of government that it work well when its chief provision is ignored. People are easily and do not carry their resentment to the origin of them. If they did the primary abuse could not continue.

THE NEW MEDICINE.

Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, whose expulsion from the Chicago Medical society excited discussion of the change which the profession is experiencing, recently addressed the annual meeting of the Illinois Social Hygiene league, of which he is president. Because he was president of the league and because the league was associated with the Public Health Institute, Dr. Schmidt was disciplined by his colleagues. He was charged with violation of medical ethics because the institute is an advertiser.

Dr. Schmidt and his supporters, including THE TRIBUNE, have been charged by critics with creating an issue which did not exist in the case. They say that Dr. Schmidt was tried on only one indictment—that of advertising. Accordingly, they claim there is little public interest involved and that there was no justification for agitating the entire subject of the reorganization of medicine. Such a distinction is incorrect, for the transition to the larger issue was natural, despite the efforts of Dr. Schmidt's opponents to limit the affair to a matter of professional technicalities. Dr. Schmidt was not charged with advertising for the benefit of his personal practice. If he had been, the issue would have been simply that of the validity of the ethical code which interdicts advertising among physicians. Under those circumstances there would have been a public interest, but it happened that Dr. Schmidt was charged with association with a semi-charitable clinic which advertises in an effort, partially to abolish plagues which have infected society for centuries. Immediately the value of the institute, the future of similar clinics, hospitalization and treatment for persons of only moderate incomes, corporate medicine, revision and modernization of medical ethics and practices were concerned. These problems were not manufactured; they existed and the circumstances of the Schmidt case automatically projected them.

In the remarks which Dr. Schmidt made at the Illinois Social Hygiene league meeting are taken, as they should be, as a friendly diagnosis of the medical situation today and advice as to the proper direction of its future, instead of recrimination, the physician may be helped in adjusting his career. Dr. Schmidt said that we are at the parting of ways between the private practice of the individual physician and the organized practice as it is advocated today. This condition may be abhorrent to the veteran practitioner and to medical tradition, but the proper response to it should be an investigation as to its truth and how best to meet it, not a bitter counter attack and denunciation of Dr. Schmidt as a propagandist.

Dr. Schmidt said that business methods must be introduced into the practice of medicine.

The efficiency and economy of products which corporation methods have supplied established a standard against which medicine is far inferior. But medicine is different we are told—the personal interest of physician in the patient does not exist in medical "factories." Then the problem is to establish that relation in the clinics. Probably the personal relation will not be as agreeable in the clinic, and for that reason we believe that the reputable private practitioner will not be eliminated, provided his rates are not greatly disproportionate to those of the clinics.

The medical profession is not inhuman and uncharitable. Perhaps it has appeared so in the impulsive position (apparently physicians are little better at politics than at business) taken in the Schmidt case. Most of the practitioners adopt a graduated scale of fees, so that they can afford to handle charity patients. That is commendable, but it is haphazard. A system must be developed whereby the man of modest income can get the best treatment when he needs it for a price accommodated to his resources. The physician claims, that it is not his statement, but the bill from the specialists, from the hospital, for nurses, etc., which make the patient discount his savings, pleasures, and necessities for years ahead. Those fees each item of sickness should be budgeted so that the total is reasonable.

Dr. Schmidt has not opened new subjects for discussion; he has articulated urgent and existing questions. The physicians who are making a factual fight of the affair will not settle the problems nor abolish them. The public needs to be helped to better health facilities and if the doctors do not provide them business men will.

Undoubtedly physicians with business intelligence could produce better results and this type of man should stand with Dr. Schmidt in an attempt to achieve a harmonious solution.

CHICAGO IS BEATING WHIRLWIND OF MISERIE.

(Newark, N. J., News.)

Chicago is learning by bitter experience that the chickens we pluck living come home to roost for cities as well as for individuals. Her financial situation can only be described as desperate. Half a billion dollars worth of public improvements are in abeyance. Her public treasures are empty. Her education department is closing the school year with a $32,000,000 deficit and the prospect that her schools may not open again in September for lack of funds. Public confidence in her government has departed; taxpaying decline, time after time, to authorities more bold. The process of sum bonds would come under profligate municipal stewardship and tie up important public activity by court actions designed to conserve what is left of former authorizations. Municipal salaries are being paid out of borrowed money.

The second city in the land could be brought to such a pass will surprise only those who have not followed the vicissitudes of her history for the past few years. Her failure to cope with crime and lawlessness, permitting the smoke screen of an anti-British propaganda to be employed in elections to conceal and confuse the issues of efficiency and economy in her own municipal housekeeping, has been a stain in the public nostril. Self-complacent under the riding of political masters contemptuous of her welfare, Chicago has only herself to blame for the condition in which she finds herself.

The example is worth parading. American municipalities have been too widely indulging in jazz finance and the whence variety of government. There is always a day of reckoning in such circumstances. A change of habit does not eliminate the penalties. Chicago, borrowing millions at six per cent on tax anticipation warrants to pay running expenses, because the millions already exacted from tax-payers have been dissipated, will wake up not only with a headache, but also with a sizable and needless load of debt to catch up with.

Horrific examples are unpopular, but they are useful, nevertheless. Other American cities, large and small and in between, may profit by observing the results of her dizzy pace and slowing down their own.

THE MANCHESTER SQUARE CASE.

SYNOPSIS.

Now mind what's happened before. Suffice to say this is a crass story, Class B. In the class B crime story the most innocent character in the story and the one you would least suspect DON'T turn out to be the murderer.

INTRODUCTION XXV.

Constable Higgins looked around him in surprise and joy. Yes, it was true! In spite of the crowds of excited American ladies reading aloud from their guide books and sometimes threatening to run over him and tread him under foot like a worm, he was actually in England and not in the United States.

The United States! The very thought caused Constable Higgins to turn pale. The United States? Why, if he were in the United States he could not get a Scotch and Polly! No, nor a gin and tonic! Nor yet a nice glass of stout or a mug of 'ale' an' 'aff.' Constable Higgins, it will be observed, was fully informed in regard to American affairs. "But 'ere 'E'll ha'm," said Constable Higgins, aloud, and dropping back to his childhood's cockney speech in his excitement. " 'Ere 'E'll ha'm, safe, right in the middle of 'ere hold England."

But the terrible impression he had been under, that he had suddenly dropped down into the very center of the dry United States, awakened in Constable Higgins a terrific thirst. He looked about for a pub and dashed madly into it.

"Eva, barmy!" shouted Constable Higgins sharply to the girl in the pub, "Scotch han' Polly, han' step lively, misse!"

The barmaid looked very frightened, and instead of setting out the Scotch and Apollonia water on the bar said: "Oh, sir, will you please see wot's the matter with th' poor gentleman an' make 'im stop?"

Constable Higgins stared at her in amazement and asked: "What's the matter with th' poor gentleman an' make 'im stop?"

"The barmaid had followed Constable Higgins into the bar, and there in a small alcove he saw a man sitting in a chair, his head buried in his hands, moaning pitifully.

"Oh, why did I do it?" sobbed the man. "Why did I bring disgrace on a noble name and sorrow to my poor wife and innocent children?"

"Hi haftent the least hide," snapped the barmaid, who had followed Constable Higgins into the bar, and who was the woman he had seen earlier.

FRENCH TIGER TO TREAT FOCH KINDLY IN BOOK

Memoirs of Clemenceau Near Completion.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service) PARIS, May 13.—The eagerly awaited first volume of Georges Clemenceau's memoirs are due to appear in December and will be devoted exclusively to the Tiger's relations with the late Marshal Ferdinand Foch, whom he has learned today.

Despite tempting offers from New York publishers for the privilege of buying out an American edition two years before the French volume, the prime minister declares it is impossible for him to allow another man to see his memoirs before his own countrymen.

Speculation runs high concerning treatment the late marshal is likely to receive from Clemenceau, especially in view of the recently published criticisms which the late marshal leveled at the premier in the troubled days near the end of the war. Although the lack of harmony between the two was notorious, Clemenceau declares he is treating the dead hero leniently.

Praises Foch's Heroism.

Naturally I will recall what I did during the war, notably during the period which followed the affair of "L'Affair des Damas," he told a Belgian correspondent. "As in 1914 to 1917, Marshal Foch displayed the greatest courage in those days. That is why, in spite of all they have said about me, I am inclined to forget everything."

He was a hero at Ypres—he was a magnificent hero. I will say so—I will say other things too, but without malice. It is certain his historians have wronged his memory. One of them made him say 'I did not command.' To suggest in time of war when one commands both armies and all allied armies, you! But no matter. Lovers of fire crackers are going to be disappointed. I will say nothing harmful of any one in my book."

M. Clemenceau said the preface has been completed and many other parts written and the volume would be further advanced if the bad weather had not retarded his departure to his country home at St. Vincent.

"Book Will Be Different."

"My book will have nothing in common with what is usually called memoirs," he continued. "I will not say that Clemenceau was born on Sept. 28 on a rainy day and such sensational things. I will get to the heart of the subject right away without any preface. But I will develop my ideas and general considerations naturally. Also my book is not going to be a history of the world war."

He declared he is writing his volume "on the gallop," adding that this is the best time, when writing as he can make erasures and changes later.

TAG SALES TODAY WILL AID CITY'S AGED AND INFIRM

Yesterday was Mother's day. Today is mothers' and fathers' day, and grandmothers' and grandfathers' day—the day of the aged and infirm—who had no one to remember them yesterday. Tags will be sold today to raise the cost of their care during the coming year.

Institutions caring for the old and infirm will benefit from the Tag day of the Aged and Adult Charities. Hundreds of women in all parts of the city have enrolled under the leadership of Mrs. Anna M. Johnson, president of the federation, to sell the tags that mean heat and clothing and food for the dependent old people. Charities that will benefit include the Baptist Old People's home, Bethany home of the Swedish Methodist church, Immanuel Woman's home, and the Swedish Baptist Home for the Aged.

The results, he says, may have a new, lesser effect upon the methods of attacking disease germs.

Sovietists: American institutions have pooled their research brains and funds in an effort to find a specific cure for tuberculosis.

Through development of a synthetic fluid in which microbes flourish, a technique has been evolved for discovering by chemical analysis all the substances of which the germs are made—their proteins, fats, and sugars, and how these are built.

Isolate Specific Poisons.

The aim is to isolate the specific poison and then to find an antidote. What is accomplished is expected to throw new light on the other germs that will be attacked.

Banished from Home by Mother, Boy Shoots Self

His mother ordered Alex Ronynek, 10 years old, to leave his home at 3301 Burnham avenue yesterday because he had been out late the previous night with a girl. Alex left the house by the back door and was found several hours later at the wheel of his father's automobile in the garage, with a bullet in his temple and the father's pistol in his hand. The father, Philip Ronynek, sped with his son to the South Shore hospital, where it was feared Alex may die.

Crunched in one corner of his cage, his form eyes dull, his head slumped down into his feathers, the eagle has refused food since yesterday morning, and although he guzzled a little water when it was forced upon him he made no effort to reach it.

NO ESCAPE SEEN FOR DOWNSTATE IN INCOME TAX

Cite New York Figures to Show Distribution.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Comparatively little informative or explanatory material has been made public by the advocates of the state income tax bill. They have made no "drive" to acquaint residents of Chicago with the probable effects of the bill.

In Springfield it is said that one of the most frequently repeated arguments has been that the bill will not affect downstate much, but that Chicago will carry the load.

If the bill passes there may be some surprises downstate later. If New York's experience with a state income tax can be taken as an index the next year will have to be in the New York results obtain in this state, 88.5 per cent of the income tax returns will be from cities of 10,000 or more inhabitants. The other 11.5 per cent will be from rural districts and small communities.

88 Cities in Class.

There were 41 cities of 10,000 or more in the state when the 1920 census was taken, and perhaps there are 52 now.

In 1923, a total of 534,158 returns were filed under the New York state income tax system. These taxpayers turned in $36,656,412 that year. Last year collections were in excess of $60,000,000. The rate and amount of exemptions are changed from time to time so that data is not procurable over a period sufficiently extended to indicate a definite trend in the effect of the system. It has been changed according to the views of the legislature. In 1921 the income taxpayers totaled more than $50,000.

How It Worked in 1922.

In 1922, New York City while the remainder of the state supplied only $8,512. Since then the number of income taxpayers have been reduced. Complete details on the operation of the system are available for 1923. One of the years showing the burden placed upon New York City in comparison with the remainder of the state, is as follows:

	Returns	Collection
New York City	217,141	$22,615,770
Other cities	118,400	5,619,000
Other areas	58,400	4,400,000
Non-residents	54,400	2,400,000
Total	398,185	30,634,770

This short induction shows how much New York City paid in comparison with other sections of the state, but does not indicate what proportion the rural districts pay in comparison with cities of 10,000 or more population. Tabulations of other figures in the tax report indicate that cities of 10,000 or more, other than New York, had to turn in between a fourth and a fifth as much income taxes as New York City. Thus 10,000 population cities had to pay one-fourth more than all of the remainder of the state. The following table will show the relationship between New York City and other cities of more than 4,000 population, the total number of the state composed of cities under 10,000, and rural areas and the payments for non-residents:

Area	Returns	Collection
New York City	217,141	$22,615,770
Cities over 10,000	118,400	5,619,000
Other areas	58,400	4,400,000
Non-residents	54,400	2,400,000
Total	398,185	30,634,770

New York's experience indicates that more than 86 per cent of the income tax returns filed are for incomes of less than $5,000, and only two classes of taxpayers turned in larger aggregate amounts.

Here's Real News: Scotch Swain Bites Police Dog.

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.)
DUNDEE, Scotland, May 12.—(UPI)—A dogged definition is made. A man here has just bitten a dog—a police dog, too. John Campbell, a clerk, was walking home from his office when a police dog bit him in the leg. The young man struck and kicked the animal, which refused to lose its hold and so he bent down to take it by the collar when the animal's ear brushed his mouth. Campbell used his teeth on the ear. Spread England's

By JOHN STEELE.
[From Tribune Press Service.]

May 13.—The state decided to tremendous trouble to select eight American for presentation at each in order that Eng-ish propaganda may be in the United States.

rather than promotion of

Sunday Evening Post's

editorial published today.

but for us," the newspaper
we benefit financially and turn like the pageantry as court involves. That is nature. There is nothing in this.

Since the days when Atlantic

They have to be contented with

RUHR INDUSTRY
BACKS WAR DEBT
DEAL BY SCHACHT

May Bring New Offer
by Germany.

ESSEN, Germany, May 13.—(AP)—
Friends of Dr. Eisner Schacht consider his hurried visit here from Paris over the weekend as a stroke of genius in shifting responsibility for Germany's further course on the reparations negotiations to the industrialists of the Ruhr valley and the Rhineland.

The purpose of his trip was interpreted as nothing less than an attempt to have directors of the Krupp and Thiersen interests and other captains of industry to agree to swallow whatever final concessions he may deem essential and unavoidable at Paris to prevent disbanding of the experts' conference without results.

Might Curtail Foreign Loans.

It was understood that Dr. Schacht,
supported by his fellow expert, Dr.
Vogeler, laid before some 20 of the leading industrialists the consequences to industry and business if the discount rate is further raised, which he represented as inevitable if no agreement is reached.

He also was understood to have pointed out that foreign loans would be extremely difficult if not impossible in event of failure of the conference.

Expect Agreement This Week.

PARIS, May 13.—(AP)—Today ushered in the fourteenth week of the conference of international experts on revision of German reparations, and the general opinion in the conference circle was that, whatever the outcome, it would be the final week.

The conference hinges on two immediate points. The first is whether the German conditions to the proposal of Chairman Owen D. Young will be accepted by the allies. The second,
which at present is held in abeyance, is whether the allied creditors can agree on a distribution among themselves of the reparations annuities on a smaller scale than each had hoped.

YOU live on what was once known as lot 39, block 26, "Southfield"—a subdivision sold in 1916 by the Harmon organization.

This lot was purchased from us for $990. Today its official valuation (as given by Olcott's Blue Book of Chicago Real Estate Values) is 16,000. That represents a total increase in value of 506%, or an average yearly value-increase of 36%.

All around you, from 77th Street to 79th Street, and from Stony Island Avenue to Jeffery Avenue, lays "Southfield." It was completely sold out in 1916 for a total sum of $630,000—today's valuation gives it a worth of $6,000,000. So you can see that your neighbors all live on property that has been a remarkably profitable investment.

Here's "Southfield"
as it looked in 1916
when opened.

Here's a view of the same spot as you know it looks.

A THOUSAND TIMES IN A THOUSAND

Profits like this come to Harmon properties, not as isolated cases to be made into "strong talking points" for salesmen, but as a customary thing. We'd be glad to have you go through our old ledgers with us and see how, name after name on page after page, selling prices we record are topped four, five, six—and as high as hundreds of times, by present valuations.

A few years from now there'll be other remarkable facts revealed by today's ledgers—for the opportunities to profit largely from the growth of Chicago have not been exhausted—rather, they're greater than ever.

Investors who consider carefully know that there's no better indication of future performance than the record of the past. That's why they place their confidence in the Harmon organization—secure in their belief that this firm will make no recommendations likely to alter their proud 42-year record of "profits" for our customers' investment "a thousand times in a thousand."

BISHOP ARRIVES IN ROME TO PUSH PEACE IN MEXICO*BORAH LUNCHES, FEES DINES WITH HOOVER AFTER SENATE CLASH

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—(Special)—President Hoover today assumed the rôle of peacemaker in the row between Senate regulars and radical Republicans which burst into the open last week when Senator Borah (Idaho) attacked Senator W. E. Borland (Rep., Idaho) as "a pseudo Republican" and denounced the latter's vote for the farm debt relief plan.

In the midst of the excitement, heightened by the Idaho senator's heated defense of his vote, it was announced that Senator and Mrs. Borah were to be luncheon guests at the White House today.

When observers had settled on interpreting the Social invitation to mean that Mr. Hoover did not share Senator Fees' resentment against radicals, or their desertion of the administration, it was announced that the Obisan had been invited to dinner at the White House tonight.

Tonight neither of the senators would discuss their conversations with the President, although both admitted that their clash was mentioned in a general discussion of the farm relief and tariff legislation.

Leaving the White House this afternoon, Bishop Obisan indicated he does not regard Senator Fees' attack as reflecting the attitude of either the President or other Republican leaders and is disposed to consider the incident closed.

Archbishop Calles as Hero.

Hailed as a conquering hero for putting down Mexico's latest revolution, Minister of War Calles returned to the capital today to the enthusiastic acclaim of 10,000 persons, who stood in a hot summer sun at the Colonies station for more than three hours to welcome him.

The guiding genius of the federal army in the two months campaign required to stamp out the revolution returned to Mexico City at 11:45 yesterday almost the exact hour that the revolution broke out ten weeks ago.

His return to the welcoming air of several military bands, the affectionate Latin embraces of President Flores Gil and more than twenty-five Mexican generals was in distinct contrast to his leaving the same station two months before, when clouds of rebellion hovered over the republic and the government of which he had only recently relinquished control.

Almost Mobbed by Crowd.

At that time the former president's train slipped silently out of Colonies station, and it was not until he was nearing the war front the next day that the people of Mexico City learned he had been captured and held against them who would overthrow the government.

To honor these Portes Gil today organized a permanent guard of honor—"with himself, accompanied by the president of the Supreme court, the president of the permanent commission of congress, and the head of the government of the federal district, first standing guard for a quarter of an hour."

The provisional president lit the "perpetual light," symbolizing the glory of the departed and the homage of the Mexican nation.

BOSTON, Mass., May 12.—(UPI)—Helen Kane, starring in Arthur Hammerstein's "Good Boy" at the Shubert theater, has been missing since Tuesday. A thorough search failed to reveal any trace of the "baby voiced" star.

The theater world here understands there is a storm brewing over Miss Kane's departure, because no one complaint has been filed with Frank Gilligan, executive secretary of Actors Equity Association, by the cast of "Good Boy," asking that Miss Kane be summoned before the council of equity to show cause for staying away from the show.

HARVARD ATHLETIC PLAN FINDS NO SUPPORT HERE

NORTHWESTERN,
CHICAGO MEN
EXPRESS VIEWS

Defend U. S. System of Competition.

It will be many years before universities in the central states even will consider following Harvard's plan to abolish intercollegiate athletics for amateur competition of intramural contests. This was the trend of comments yesterday by educators, athletic leaders, and alumni of Northwestern and the University of Chicago after reading the story of Harvard's proposed policy in

WALTER DILL
HORNELL
LOWELL or Harvard hopes to make all athletic opponents in the exception of Yale. Sports take the form of intramural men, outstanding players to represent their alma mater in an annual meet with Old Bill. This plan was adopted after a study of the system practiced for many years at Oxbridge.

Conditions Are Different.
The consensus of opinion expressed by college leaders in Chicago yesterday is that Harvard's proposition "is impracticable but undesirable." Students, alumni, and the public strongly oppose it. Faculty, too, in both divisions, it was pointed out, that conditions here are by no means similar to those prevailing in this country finally, to take a more mercenary point of view, college football pays.

NORTHERN

Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University, on Harvard's plan: "I don't think much if Harvard can go through with it. Even if it does, I don't believe any other university will follow. I wouldn't like it on the system adopted at Northwestern. We now have a good system. All we want is a combination of the intramural and intercollegiate systems. What may happen in twenty years I don't know, but as things stand now nothing is practicable nor desirable."

FREDERIC WOODWARD, acting president of the University of Chicago, second his views as follows:

"I don't believe Harvard's plan ever would be feasible or necessary at the University of Chicago. We aim to develop intramural and intercollegiate athletics hand in hand. Our aim is to have a certain amount of sport available to every student whether or not he has the quality of variety caliber. When the new quadrangles are completed next year, each will be flanked by an athletic field, giving every one an opportunity to indulge in sports."

Stagg's Statement.

"We do not believe the student body would react favorably to the abolition of intercollegiate competition. Before we have no traditional opponent over us Yale with whom we could compete. I do not believe our own schools will follow Harvard's lead, and with the situation as it now stands, I would not like to see such a move into effect at the University of Chicago."

Here's the way Coach A. A. Stagg, the grand old man of the University of Chicago, looked at the matter:

"It would take many years to do anything such a plan, and I do not think it would be well received."

FREDERIC WOODWARD,
LOWELL

"I am strong in intra-mural sports, but see no need for abolishing intercollegiate sport, as no provision has been made for competition between the two conferences. At the University of Chicago, approximately 75 per cent of the students indulge in athletics. If a man is not good enough for the varsity there are plenty of teams on which he may play. In attempting to adopt the English system Harvard must take into consideration the fact that for centuries Oxford and Cambridge were the important universities in England."

"I believe that students and alumni generally oppose the plan and I believe that Harvard will get little support to follow."

PAUL MANLEY, head football coach at Northwestern, was equally definite in his opposition. He expressed himself as follows:

"I do not believe the plan ever will gain favor with the bulk of our uni-

THE SPIRIT OF THE TURF

All of the color and tense excitement attached to the turf are crystallized in this picture during a race on the Jamaica track. "Boots and Saddles," a dozen sleek thoroughbreds parading to the post, fidgeting eagerly at the wire, with their confident little riders bunched high in the saddles, and finally that shortest of choruses, "They're off!"

Sparta Eleven Defeats Hakoah, U. S. Champs, 3-2

Red Faber Gives Thanks to Capt. Kamm.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
The White Sox haven't been going in for garrisoning this season, but they staged one yesterday that offset their recent offenses. Going into the ninth with a 2 to 1 count against them, mainly because of ill luck, they touched off an attack that was labeled as the genuine article, but it was the eighth. Captain Willie Kamm doubled his mates home on his fourth successive hit for a 3 to 2 triumph in the final with the Senators.

The rousing conclusion was poetic or some kind of justice for Old Red Faber. Through nine rounds he hurled as beautifully as any forty year old gentleman ever hurled, but when he stepped aside in the home ninth to let a pinch batter operate in his place, it looked much as if he was going to be beaten on a mostly assortments of four hits. Meanwhile the Sox had been blowing opportunity after opportunity against Bob Burke, a spit-like southpaw from Joliet. But Burke's run of good fortune finally exhausted itself.

Habell Replaces Burke.
Autry was chosen to set the wheels in motion in the ninth. He stepped up in place of Faber and whacked the first pitch on a line to deep left for two baggers. Kerr, who had been benched for Hunnefeld, ran for the ponderous catcher. Mosti tried to sacrifice, but popped to Judge. Then Mosti found a single to center, but it looked for a moment as if Wally might flag it, so Kerr was able to go only as far as third on the smash. West heaved the ball to the plate, showing the way. His work led directly to the tying goal and then he outran the tying goal and then he gave Metzler a chance to hike to second.

The situation called for some display of strategy by Clyde Milan, acting boss of the Washington gang. Kamm was next and he had thumped Burke for two doubles and a single so there was no desire to risk giving him another opportunity. Burke was yanked, and Metzler, a right-hander, summoned to act the crisis. Kamm and Burke, and double a couple dangerously close to his shirt front. Then he swung in earnest; the ball soared high over West's head. Kerr and Metzler scoring and Kamm going as far as second. That was all for the day.

Reynolds Comes Through.
The Senators fell heir to their first run in the fifth because Clegg got tangled up. He made a wild pop on Blaize who opened the inning. Crozier tapped to Faber and Blaize would have been forced at second but Clegg muffed the throw. Then Hayes made the first hit of the game off old Red, and Blaize ran home. The second run arrived in the eighth. That doubled against the bricks in right, going to third on Burke's bunt and home on Rice's fly to left.

Prior to the eighth, when they finally broke in with a run, the Sox had been dismal failure in the pinches. They had a man on as the result of an error with none out in the second. Kamm doubled and an error put him on third with none gone in the fourth. He doubled again to open the sixth and died again. But when he opened the eighth with a single, he went under the constant care of a physician and nurse. His wife and son pestered him in that trying fall.

So, admitting the class of the Kentucky Jockey Club stinks as a race, Blue Lagoon performed brilliantly last night and outdistanced Clyde Van Dusen this spring of Lexington, test which, the latter's admirers do not concede for an instant was conclusive. We start with two notable performances.

second tier of the left field stands, owing Gossage and English stood at the plate. Lindstrom threw out Cuyler and Jackson got Hornsby. The score was Cubs 4; Giants, 4.

Bush went in to pitch to the Giants in the seventh. Hornsby threw out Bush. O'Farrell singled to center and went to second when Leach, batting for Hubbell, singled off Bush's glove. Kaufman went to second to run for O'Farrell. Welsh forced Leach. McMillan led Hornsby, but when Hornsby attempted to complete a double, he threw the ball to the glove. Kaufman covered, and Welsh raced to third. Cohen singled to left. Welsh scoring. Lindstrom fled to Stephenson. The score was Giants, 4; Cubs, 5.

May Pitches for Giants.

May went in to pitch at the start of the eighth and Wilson greeted him with a double to right center. Wilson went to third while Jackson was throwing out Stephenson. Grimm grounded to Cohen and Wilson led off third just enough to put a throw to the plate. Black then scampered back to third and Grimm was safe at first on the fielder's choice. Hartmann batted for Gossage and set up a double play by Wilson, which scored Wilson with the tying run. McMillan got his second single in two innings. Grimm going to third. English forced McMillan on a split hair play. Jackson to Cohen. The score was tied at 4 each.

The Cubes filled to bases in the tenth but failed to score.

Cuyler got the fifth under way with a single to right. El pulled a muscle in his leg and Wilson ran for him. Hornsby forced Moore, but Wilson and Stephenson could produce nothing to move the Raft off first base.

Roush opened the home half of the eighth with a single over second base. Hornsby came up with the ball, but could not negotiate the throw in time. Hogan tried to sacrifice and finally lifted a tall foul. Grace bunted the grand stand snaring the ball. Roush immediately dashed for second. Grace whirled quick as a mite and whipped the ball to the pitcher, who was still holding the ball. That stunning bit of thinking and quick action relieved a most embarrassing situation and no doubt had a heavy bearing upon the ultimate result of the ball game. Rees, a substitute batsman for Mays, ended the inning by tanning.

The deluge and darkness, greatly distressing the customers in the stadium, finally drove them to a double feature later in the evening.

Black Wilson was wheeled to the Cubes' special tonight in an invalid chair suffering from an injured left ankle received when he slid into second while producing the tying run in the eighth inning. Hack said he didn't expect to be able to play for several days but Trainer Lohay said he expected to bring the injured member around by tomorrow afternoon.

Rilt Cuyler, who left the game in the eleventh with a pulled muscle, said at midnight he expected to be in the lineup tomorrow.

Mandell to Start Work Here Friday

Promoter Harmon will stage his next show at the Chicago Stadium either on May 21 or 22. Paddy has several bouts in mind and is trying to round up Otto Von Post, Norwegian heavyweight, with Tommy Rizzo, Italian middleweight, and Harry Santiago, weight champion, may appear on the card, and so may Armando Santiago. Harmon hopes to make a definite announcement tomorrow.

Attendance at Aurora Track Up 30 Per Cent

If attendance and the mutual betting handled during the first seven days of the spring race meeting at Aurora is an indication, Chicago will be the scene of some tremendous turn crowds during the summer and fall.

Crowds of 50,000 are not at all unlikely and it is possible there may be a gathering of 75,000 at Washington Park or Arlington Park when some of their big stakes are decided.

Increase Thirty Per Cent.

The attendance at Aurora this spring is averaging about 30 per cent more than last year. Clifford H. Trimble, manager of the track, said yesterday. "Our mutual handle is up accordingly," he said, but he gave out no figures or estimates on the amount of money handled through the mutual department.

The increased business has greeted the new race season in the face of bad weather. Only on last Friday have the elements been such that the crowds have been unable to get in the open stands in comfort unless dressed in their winter clothing. The racing has been close, exciting, and formful, but there have been no particular large headline attractions to draw out the large crowds.

So it looks like Chicago racers are last adjusted themselves to the pari-mutuel system of speculation and the sport is occupying a prominent place here after being entirely off the calendar for many years.

Gaston Today's Feature.

The Gaston purse, a dash at six furlongs, is today's feature at Aurora. The Doctor, the Maryland performer which beat some of the fleetest sprinters here last week, is scheduled to go to the post in it, along with Jack Hassell, Flood Control, Ultimo, Golden Horn, and other drivers. The Doctor picks up ten points off his last race, but is likely to rule the favorite at post time.

Dempsey Denies His and Estelle's Love Grows Cold

New York, May 13.—[Special]—Speaking through his secretary, Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, today denied a report to the effect that his marital happiness with Estelle Taylor, motion picture star, has abated.

The report, which caused a buzz of grapevines along Broadway, appeared in a newspaper and stated that "the Taylor-Dempsey romance is cold and will be all over by the holidays."

Jack was thoroughly incensed when he heard about it, according to his secretary, Leonard Sacks.

"Why, when Miss Taylor went to Hollywood recently Jack rode all the way to Chicago with her, and there hasn't been a day since that he hasn't talked to her over the long distance telephone," Sacks said.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 12.—(P)—The Cards swept their three games in succession, defeating the Robins in the first game today, 13 to 7. Brooklyn had a rugged bat, making seven errors and suffered its sixth consecutive loss. Since the Cards tied with the team, the Cardinals went into the next league lead.

Willie Sherill souped his way through the Brooklyn batting or-the entire distance, although he was combed for thirteen hits.

Sinclair Consolidated Oil.

S. H. L.—A rise in gasoline after the early months of 1928 brought Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation's average selling price for the year some what above 1927. This, with larger sales helped to offset the curtailment in production of crude oil.

Surplus after charges for the year complete was more than twice that of 1927. Earnings of $2.31 per share on the increased amount of common in 1928 compare with 89 cents in 1927, and cover the regular $2 dividend rate at which dividends were resumed in April 1929.

Gross earnings in 1928 amounted to $104,350, compared with $168,147, Net earnings were $40,150,452, against $95,734,826 in 1927.

Net income was $13,447,547, against $5,381,081 in 1927.

Surplus for the year was $12,142, against $4,025,449 in 1927.

Earnings were equal to $83.81 per share on the preferred, compared with $32.47 in 1927.

Profit and loss surplus was increased from $27,786,483 at the close of 1927 to $40,514,501 as of Dec. 31, 1928.

Current assets were $81,164,844, and current liabilities were $17,018,454 at the close of 1928. This left a net working capital of $74,150,190, which compares with $35,816,550 the year before.

The common stock is medium grade.

The preferred deserves a fairly good rating.

Mother Lode Coalition Mine.

F. N. O.—Mother Lode Coalition Mine company produces copper and some silver. Its claims are located in the Copper river district of Alaska. The company is affiliated with Kennecott Copper corporation.

It reported profits, before depreciation and depletion, of $1,058,849 for 1928, against $1,183,325 for 1927.

Operating revenues in 1928 amounted to $2,110,513, against $2,012,818 in 1927.

Earnings in 1928 were equal to 41 cents a share on 2,500,000 shares of no par stock, against 47 cents a share on the same amount of stock the year before.

The company sold 17,900,550 pounds of copper in 1928 at an average price of 14.887 cents a pound, and 50,653 ounces of silver at an average of 64.774 cents an ounce.

In December, 1928, the annual dividend rate was increased from 30 cents to 40 cents per share. Dividends are said semiannually.

United Public Utilities.

W. L. E.—United Public Utilities company has issued $1,000,000 first lien 6 per cent gold bonds, series C, due April 1, 1947.

Each bond carries nondetachable warrants entitling the holder to purchase on or before April 1, 1938, at $15 a share, common stock (no par) of United Public Utilities company in the ratio of 10 shares of common stock for each $1,000 principal amount of bonds.

Net earnings of the company and its subsidiaries for the twelve months ended Feb. 28, 1928, after payment of operating expenses but before retirement provision, were $1,038,343, or 6.3 cents per share. Total interest requirements on the total amount of first lien bonds outstanding, including this issue.

These bonds are fairly high grade, a suitable investment for a business man's surplus funds.

ASKS 65 MILLION MORE CAPITAL FOR RAILWAYS

New York, May 13.—(P)—Financing to raise about $65,000,000 additional capital for the Allegheny corporation, the railroad investment company formed early this year by the Van Sweringen interests, was announced today.

The new capital will be used for further investments, the nature of which was not disclosed, and to enable Allegheny corporation to exercise its prospective rights to subscribe to additional stock of Chesapeake & Ohio railway. The latter plans a stock dividend of 33 1/3 per cent contingent upon exercise of the subscription rights.

The raising of capital supplementary to the original $185,000,000 financing to the railroad investment company will offer publicly $25,000,000 5 1/2 per cent preferred stock carrying warrants to purchase common. Both will be offered at par.

UNDERGROUND FREIGHT TRANSPORTATION

Traffic delays take DOLLARS out of people's pockets...

*The Freight Tunnels
keep down the losses*

THERE are certain disadvantages in being underground, although still very much alive. Out of sight, out of mind, you know. The Freight Tunnels wish to be remembered not only for what they do every day 40 feet below the surface, but for what, as a consequence, is not done on the streets above.

For instance, down in the depths, the tunnel lines move some 3000 car loads of freight every day. As a result, 5000 truck movements do NOT take place in the streets of the Loop above. Open bridges, stop lights, traffic jams are plentiful enough as it is—and costly.

Delay 50 vehicles, a dozen street cars and 300 people four minutes, and 1500 minutes are wasted—thousands of hours a day are gone and thousands of dollars. How much a year? Millions, no doubt. Traffic delays take dollars out of people's pockets. Everyone loses. Nobody gains.

Tunnels Lessen Traffic Confusion

The Freight Tunnels can not stay the tides of traffic above or stop the losses of time and money, but they can—and do—materially lessen traffic confusion and reduce these losses in the Loop. Their value to Chicago as a whole is real, not fictional. And, of course, they save a great deal of time and money for shippers.

We would like to have you remember the Freight Tunnels, even if you never see or hear them. Every day they are at work, busily moving goods quickly, quietly and economically. They are a civic asset.

*The greater the traffic in the tunnels
the smaller the traffic on the streets*

But Tribune Want Ads can find exactly the right kind of men for you. And Chicago employers prove it by the way they advertise. Last year they gave the Tribune over 79% of all their "Salesmen

They did this for one reason only: their Help Wanted ads gave them best results when printed in the Tribune.

Tribune Help Wanted advertising will do the same for you—will give you the best results—do your employment job alone! You need no other advertising. To get the employees you want, phone

PRICE OF WHEAT
OFF 13 CENTS IN LAST 2 WEEKS

And 31c Down from the Season's Top.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat prices have declined 13c for May delivery within two weeks, and are off 31c from the season's high, with the price down nearly to the $1.00 level. It would be no surprise to see a decline below that point unless the general situation is materially improved in the near future. In a week of liquidating grain and declining wheat, all grains in sympathy with wheat, with a moderate rally in the closing days, yet net losses were established on wheat at 7075c, corn 4255c, oats 14525c and rye 4195c.

Provisions did not escape the weakness in grains, but have finished with losses of only 2% @ 1314c, short ribs 4240c, while May hams were up 375c and other cuts up 225c as compared with week ago.

With world's production of wheat largely in excess of requirements, prospects of a good crop in United States, the largest supplies known at this season, and a probable world's carryover of 300,000,000 to 350,000,000 bu, a record supply, there is a most unusual situation.

Should nothing happen to the winter wheat crop, which is estimated by the government report issued last week at 555,000,000 bu winter and a possible 300,000,000 bu of spring, there will be 855,000,000 bu, or within 8,000,000 bu of last year's harvest. It might be possible to raise 625,000,000 bu of winter wheat, which with 300,000,000 bu of spring there would be 925,000,000 bu. Estimates on our carryover suggest about 150,000,000 bu, which is known to be conservative.

A recent estimate on the world's carryover is around 350,000,000 bu.

Speculation Helps Farmers.

Speculative buying has been largely responsible for making a good market for United States farmers to sell their crop of 1928, but unfortunately they have not parted with sufficient grain to make an easy situation as to supplies and demand, the farmers' burdensome despite the increased consumption which naturally comes with enlargement in population.

A sustaining factor in the Chicago market at the last was the strength in Winnipeg which was attributed to good operations and to renewed buying, which took about 10,000,000 bu of hard winters, durums, and Manitobas, mostly the latter, in a week.

It is said by seaboard interests that when the reduced rail rates are put into effect, which it is understood will be decided at a meeting of railroad interests today, shipping orders will be furnished and the grain will begin to move.

Open interest in May wheat is the same as shown at this period, only 4,750,000 bu against 4,750,000 bu a week ago, while early in January it was slightly above 80,000,000 bu.

May wheat closed Saturday at $1.025c, July $1.075c, Oct., September, $1.115c; Dec., $1.155c @ 1.165c. Prices for the week follow:

Hinsdale Plans Big Show of Horses, Dogs

BY TRALIA

The third annual dog show of the Hinsdale Kennel club and the Hinsdale horse show are to be held on Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2, at Mayakake farm, the former estate of the late Francis S. Peabody, where the Mayakake hunt used to be held. Proceeds of the hunt are to go to the Illinois Nursing Relief Society. The dog show is to be held indoors from 10 to 8 o'clock each day and the horse show is to be held in a ring outside the same building, from 2 to 6 o'clock. The judges for the dog show will be nationally prominent, as this is to be the big summer dog show of the middle west, and it is hoped to attract the best dogs from all over the country. Major General Edmund and Mrs. William Clegg of Fort Sheridan, Miss B. Cooper, and Richard Stericker are to judge the horses. The entry lists are not yet in.

The committee of women in charge includes Mrs. James Knowlson, Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. John Matz, Mrs. Ernest Hench, Mrs. William France and Mrs. Castle, Mrs. Philip Clarke, Mrs. Warren Everett, and Mrs. Stewart Whately, all of Hinsdale; Mrs. Austin of Oak Park, and Mrs. Paul Jessenlynn and Mrs. W. P. Saunders of Grange.

Jean Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Moore of New York City and Palm Beach, Fla., is to marry to the Hon. Oliver Malcolm St. John, son of the Earl of Portmouth and of Portsmouth of Barnton, Marchioness of Barnton, Devonshire, England, on June 1. The ceremony is to take place at the Cathedral of the Incarnation at Garden City, with Bishop St. John of Long Island officiating. The reception is to be held at "Tom Gables," the residence of the bride's parents near Roslyn, L. I. The Earl and Countess of Portmouth are to attend the wedding. The bride's mother is the former Miss Margaretta Walker of Chicago. Mr. Walllop and his bride are to reside at the Big Horn ranch at Sheridan, Wyo., owned by the late seventh earl of Portmouth, from whom the present earl inherited the title in 1925.

Despite all the arrangements to be attended to for the Brewster wedding next week, to Duxbury, Mass., Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, mother of the bride-to-be, tore herself away to go to the Philadelphia meeting of the Garden Club of America. The meeting is a special anniversary one and Lake Forest is one of the founder chapters. Mrs. Brewster is one of the original delegates and is president of the organization, so she made extra time to attend.

Most of the entertainment for Miss Brewster is to wait until she and Mr. Dodge return from their honeymoon in July, and there are just a few small parties happening between now and the wedding. The Brewsters are to have a dinner party at "Covin Tree," a Lake Forest place, where the wedding is to be solemnized next Friday evening.

The board of directors of the new Duxbury Country club, exclusively for women, held its first spring meeting at 80 North Michigan avenue on Friday night. The board includes Mrs. Carl Kline, president; Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. W. W. Haerter, Miss Priscilla Pearce, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Raymond Ashcraft, Mrs. A. F. Burroughs, Mrs. Robert Cutting, Mrs. John Dodge, Mrs. Cyril Mertens, and Mrs. W. W. Willits.

The junior board of the Chicago League for Convalescent Women and Children will meet tomorrow at the Chicago Athletic club. Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. Bernard F. Cook, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Evelyn Thomas are to be hosts.

Mr. Howard F. Gillett of 50 Banks street and Mrs. Mason Brose of 229 Lake Shore drive were among the Chicagoans sojourning in Boston, Mass., last week.

Mr. George V. Schatz of Highland Park and his son, John M. Van Schatz, have been sojourning at the Manz at Asheville, N. C.

Eastern papers carry the announcement of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Southgate of Chicago, formerly of New York City, on May 4. Mrs. Southgate was Miss Lila Lansdowne of New York City, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Henry Lansdowne.

High Heels Cause Posture Defects, Iowa Test Proves

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY

Women will wear high heels so long as the Cinderella tale holds in their memory, and it isn't likely to die for a few more centuries, anyway. They'll wear short stumps and they'll do everything in leather to minimize the length of the foot.

Some of them will suffer the agonies of the well known journeymen to pad, but they'll keep on wearing their spike heels. Some will dress their feet for Cinderella excursions only on party occasions, which may cause them to feel uncomfortable, and some will never suffer any complaints of feet, back, or legs because they find they can get good looking shoes that they can walk cheerfully in. This latter class is growing, to be sure, and the more it grows, the better posture the land is going to see.

We are perfectly familiar with the foot troubles that go with extremely high heels, but not so aware of the bad effect on posture, nor of the effect on the shape of the leg itself of the dangerous-to-wear spikes.

A group of girls was tested out in Ames, Ia., recently. And there the postural damages were checked up. Of fifty-two girls who were addicted to high heels, thirty-six were found to walk with their necks bent forward, thirty-two had protruding abdomens, and all forty-two had an abnormally narrow curve between shoulders and hips. In bare feet the picture of the same group showed better ratings. And so per cent of the girls who had good feet had good posture. Another charge made against the high heel, after the experiment, was that 40 per cent in a group of 288 girls examined showed the bones of the pelvic region tilted.

About the older woman it doesn't matter so much, but it is a serious business when schoolgirls can chalk up so many defects caused by heels that, as far as they are concerned, don't profit them anything, particularly in looks. A schoolgirl with a heel of some height offers a more attractive looking foot anyway, regardless of all health or posture propaganda.

AMERICANS IN PARIS.

PARIS, May 12.—The Americans registered at the famous hotels here yesterday:

Bill Parrot, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlesinger, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lovett, Dr. R. Nef, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Prentiss, Mr. and Mrs. Al C. Schwab, Dr. and Mrs. A. Howard Shamborg, Mrs. Theodore Scheurmann, Alice E. Schermer, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Schermer, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac S. Leibman, Mr. and Mrs. Lipman, Miss Minnie Ruth Elman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kahn, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clarke, and Mr. and Mrs. Timothy A. Collins of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. R. Beatty of Morris, Ill., and R. D. Reinhardt, Frank Ernest Nicholson, Miss Jerry Blanchard, and Charles R. Smith of New York.

A rough survey of Chicago's gardening activities indicates that hundreds of gardeners have turned their vegetable plots over to the growing of flowers during the last few years. The chief reason for this general shift from vegetables to flowers perhaps is the intense local interest in landscaping and beautifying the home. An important factor, however, is that commercial growers have greatly improved the quality of the varieties of vegetables grown for the market, making it unnecessary to produce vegetables in the home garden in order to get tender crops.

This improvement in refrigeration and transportation of perishable products has made it possible to keep the city consumer constantly supplied with a superior grade of vegetables sold by green grocers every month in the year.

Home gardeners still set a lively scene for the market gardener when it comes to producing fine fresh vegetables. They use great care in selecting varieties. Commercial grow-

A Swat and a Kiss May Both Be Signs of Loveliness

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

She Wore His Hat.

It was breakfast time. Spirits run high among younger members of the family at the table. He finished his breakfast, and was excused from the table. As he passed by his young aunt's chair—he and his aunt are great friends—he dropped a kiss on the back of her neck.

She turned her head to smile at him, when he said, "I wanted to give you a nice big wallop, but I knew you'd think me a fool if I gave you a kiss!"

So decided! So ended the day.

I had to laugh. It made me think of the extreme exponents of the behaviorist school of psychology who live in deadly terror of a career—and who have, unfortunately, put many mothers in deadly terror of one, too.

They consider any demonstration of affection a dangerous matter, developing most unwholesome tendencies.

We sat on the head about every three weeks in their home along this line. It does make those who know and love children laugh.

Of course, there is such a thing as overdoing this kind of affectionateness. We've all seen mothers hug and kiss their children to a degree almost nauseating. And I've seen fathers do it, too—and aunts and uncles. I know a mother whose grown son had to kiss her goodbyes if he went to the corner to get a package of cigarettes and kiss her when he got back again.

"You haven't kissed Mother, Jackie darling," she would say. But most people aren't like that.

Young animals cuddle to and are cuddled by their mothers—why regard it as suspiciously with human beings? A little squeeze, a kiss on the top of a curly head, a pat on the back, a mother knows you've done it. On a big heart, enveloping hug as a greeting or a good-bye—these don't harm any youngster. And for the children's side of it—it strikes me that they're pretty natural and rarely too free with their kisses and other demonstrations of loviness.

Between some parents and their children there is freedom and ease; others than between others seem to spontaneously express their affection more often. But on the whole I think parents and children tend to reticence rather than an excess of demonstrativeness.

For my part, I haven't seen anything in the least sentimental in the most loving of childish demonstrations. As a rule they last but a moment, and whether sometimes they are given and taken quite often they are delivered with a gusto that leaves you speechless.

A feeling of good spirits and "how nice you are" may be expressed by: "I wanted to give you a wallop but I knew you'd get mad—I gave you a kiss!"

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Bananas.

It is pleasanter than some people would think to get a newer and more vivid idea of some food that has become rather commonplace to us as an eater than you have guessed. Perhaps there is not a single kind of food that has not become the same to us as we are to it, to new interests. For instance, once having seen the blossom of a pomegranate, I understand better why that fruit has persisted since Old Testament times, but I know I do not understand half yet.

Nowhere in the course of my recent travels I picked up and saved a little piece of paper shaped like the palm leaf of a playbill, on which was written "brought by hand," meaning two hands of bananas. There are other reasons save the sanitary one why we should do this. When you eat a banana ripened in a semi-tropical city you may get a delightful sense of cleavage, which is the aroma we get from a carnation, and that is about the freshest and cleanest odor in the world. And you get the cleave taste in the banana.

Bananas are probably much more sensitive to odors than most of us realize, and if they are broken, not cut, off from a great bunch singly, the open end can absorb the odors around it which, in certain stores at certain times, beginning about now, are atrocious, and the banana is not then worth the eating, as perhaps you have found.

The railroad which carries tons of bananas to the wharves in New Orleans to an enormous territory north and east tries to educate its public by presenting them with a charming little essay on the banana, with its menu. One of the important items in that is this: "It should never be kept in the ice box, but should be allowed a place in the family fruit bowl. Have you seen it in the bowl before? You have. It has been in ours."

New Orleans mentions, and more than mentions, she exploits her docks as places to visit, and her guide books will tell you that the banana wharf is the most interesting of all. It describes what you can see there as a "thrilling scene." A ship comes in bearing sixty or seventy thousand bunches of bananas. They cannot be dug and the speeding is wondrous.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story must be original and must be submitted on one side of the page. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Auntie Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Our small nephew lived in the same town with us. One day he wanted to come over to our house, but didn't want any one to bring him or any one to meet him.

His mother telephoned when he started from home, so we could watch for him, as she was afraid if he saw anyone interesting along the way he might stop to play.

When he finally arrived he walked proudly in and said, "I'll have to call mother and see if I got here all right."

G. J.

Well, one of a large family, had a small sister living with an aunt. On one occasion when many children there were she answered, "Six, but auntie is using 'one of us'."

BY ARTHUR
CHICAGO TRIBUNE
Washington, D.C.—Critics of the Senate's relief bill say its piling up of debts will be a burden to the nation's economy. Senator Brothman [Rep., N.D.] says the senate's version of the farm relief bill is futile. He took to the floor of the Senate yesterday to denounce the bill, which he said would add $1 billion to the national debt.

Senator Brookhart [Rep., Ill.] says the bill is "needless" and that the administration should do more than it has done.

Senator Brookhart [Rep., Ill.] is relatively mild in his criticism, and Senator Johnson [Rep., Minn.] joins him in the debate. Both are contented, and both contribute any talk to the floor.

The President had lunched yesterday with his guest at the White House. The visit was to affect the Republicans. It may or may not, but even so, may have done more for the President's popularity. Whatever the result, the national financial situation is still uncertain.

Passage of the Senate's bill is expected on debate today, but many remain for consideration. The joint session was to begin at 10 a.m.

In the tariff of Representatives James W. Winship [Rep., Kan.] opened the sugar duty provision of the bill. He asserted that sugar costs consumers by 240 million dollars.

Representative George Tamm [Rep., Tex.] leader of the Democrats, did not comment on which bills are said are.

Representative [Rep., Mo.] protested because the committee had failed to pass a bill on potatoes, imports of potatoes threatening the country, he said.

Representatives [Rep., Ill.] and [Rep., Wash.] both moved and motions committee.

Various groups who are dissatisfied with the bill concerned during the debate, the most prominent members of the committee tomorrow are to be given.

Representative [Rep., N.Y.] called on members from the north to come forward for duties on hide on an early date.

In a discussion house leaders relate that the special session of congress will be all summer if necessary legislation at the date it was made was no foundation for the session might require.

The original proposal of which concerned the two houses of Congress during June is in the hands of the committee. The bill was passed by the Senate on June 1st and the House on June 2nd.

The bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator [Rep., Ill.] and was referred to the Committee on Agriculture.
